

Father's Prayer

Almighty G-d, as I hold my newborn son in my arms, I am filled with feelings of awe and trepidation at the enormity of my responsibility as his father. Upon my shoulders lies the obligation to provide him with both the spiritual and physical sustenance that he will need to get through life. I realize that for that I am dependant on Your continued love and support.

Please, dear G-d, bless me with the wisdom to be the proper role model for my son, for I know he will be looking up to me as his father. Entering him into the Covenant of Abraham is the first step in showing my son that his heritage as a Jew is important and vital to our family. May we also celebrate with our son as he enters into Torah, marriage and a life of good deeds.
