WE ARE HIRING FREE INTERNSHIP

Marketing and Strategic Management Intern

Bharga Biotech is on a mission to reshape the future of fashion and lifestyle products through sustainable innovation. As a Marketing and Strategic Management Intern, you will contribute to building a purpose-driven brand that develops planet-positive alternatives to leather and plastic.

In this role, you will be involved in planning and executing marketing strategies, managing brand communications, supporting outreach campaigns, and engaging with sustainability-driven communities and institutions. You'll get exposure to what it takes to grow a climate-conscious startup, while sharpening your skills in digital marketing, brand positioning, and market research. This internship is ideal for students passionate about sustainability, branding, and conscious consumerism.

Duration
1 to 6 months (flexible)

Key Responsibilities

- Support digital campaigns across platforms like Instagram and LinkedIn
- Assist in content creation: posts, blogs, newsletters, and video scripts
- Conduct market research and trend analysis
- Collaborate on product storytelling and community engagement
- Help plan and promote launches, exhibitions, and partnership initiatives

Who Can Apply

- Students from Communication, Marketing, BBA/MBA, Mass Communication, or PR
- Strong writing and communication skills
- Familiar with Canva, social media, or branding tools
- Interested in climate-conscious brands and communication strategies

Internship Details

- Free Internship – No registration fee
- Selection based on online interview
- Internship Certificate from Bharga Biotech
- Real-world experience in sustainable brand-building
- Outstanding interns may be offered future placement opportunities
