BIO:

GRIND ARCHITECTS BEHIND THE SUIT

Shardul – Guitars & machine control

Chainsaw riff architect.
Controls the guitar, triggers the machines, and keeps the grind moving at breakneck speed.

VOMITSUIT is a grindcore/noisegrind duo from the city of Pune in India, blending raw aggression with digital chaos.

Formed by Shardul (guitar, machines) and Girish (vocals, synth, live noise, sample manipulation), the band creates short, violent bursts of sound driven by programmed drums, crushing low-end, and layers of industrial distortion.

Their live sets fuse AKAI MPCs, analog synths, and pre-composed MIDI drums and bass — with Shardul's crushing live guitars and Girish's visceral vocals, synths, and noise shaping, unleashing a high-pressure wall of sound built to implode.

No live drummer & No live bassist. Just two humans triggering violence through hardware and volume - fast, loud, and without apology.

VOMITSUIT is fully DIY, self-contained, and designed to grind - one minute at a time.

Girish – Vocals, synth, samples & noise

Noise commander.
Handles screams, synths, and chaos — warping samples and pushing the sound wall into meltdown.
