Daily Postings

One of the daily postings I had for July on FanForevermore, my Facebook page, and on LinkedIn. It's a lot of fun that all writers should try. Pick any picture and write a post about it. My readers get to read a quirky side of Cynthia and also an idealist viewpoint. I entered a few writing contests for practice. It never hurts to keep sharp so you're ready when someone calls with work. This is a month of change. Things that dropped off for a while have turned around and it's getting better, little by little.

Fighting falling off
And safely keeping track

Some days are like this. Too many things going on at once and trying to juggle and keep those balls in the air. Sometimes it feels like I'm walking a tightrope. Now that my Mom is in her new apartment, things have calmed down considerably! Thank you, God! It leaves me the time to breathe and get some writing done.

Some of My Own Websites...

My sister website, Forevermore Online, LLC.

News and Reviews Website - software, products, and more.

My eBook store.

the First United Methodist Church of Phoenix, NY

Another website I oversee is my own church's website. I think that makes seven I work on each month. There's always room for more if you need content, or articles for your website... please let me know. You can email me what you're looking for at Cynthia@CynthiaSaarie.com.

Still on Sale

My mother's business is out of business and her items for sale will soon be unavailable for me to make private sales. On August 15th, the Village of Phoenix, NY will be having a community-wide garage sale. The items you see below are from my mother's sewing business that she closed a long time ago and packed away in boxes. I had to bring them somewhere, so my church was the destination. It was said that because everything, including my church, was closed, I could privately sell her inventory before we opened up again. Well, the time is now coming and soon these items will become a part of my church's village sale. I no longer will have special access for you. If you are interested in materials, ribbons, laces, crochet threads, patterns, etc. Please contact me soon. The 15th will be here and these will be history. I hope quilting or sewing guilds contact me soon.

And we're off to the Races!

Please continue to Write! Practice, practice, practice. Writing stimulates your mind. I saw a post recently asking how do I get unstuck when looking at a blank computer screen? What??? I don't think I've ever drawn a blank on spouting my opinion on something. This is my response...

Unstuck, the opposite of stuck. Finding an out when you are glued into a mind-bender.

I'm a visual person. Looking at pictures brings me any story you need. That's why I started doing a daily post with a picture I put up on Canva.com. There I add some text, a famous saying, and my thoughts on the subject.

When writing or producing a video for a client, all they need to do is give me an idea of what they're looking for, and I'm off to the races! My note pad is not for novices. If you can decipher it. Life is good.

So practice your writing... poetry, essays, novels, articles, ads, it's all good. Life is good.

Stay healthy,

Cynthia
