To Whom it May Concern,

I've known Seraphim for several years through our mutual involvement in Rotary. At all times he was kind, considerate, and professional. He asked if I had considered voluntary benefits for my staff, and while I knew it was a good idea, I kept postponing our meeting due to other pressing business needs. When I was finally able to meet with him, I realized right away that I should have done it much sooner.

Seraphim came to a staff meeting to explain how the supplemental employee benefits work, then he patiently set up individual meetings with anyone who was interested in enrolling. If I ever have questions about enrolling new staff members, he walks me through the process.

Seraphim is a pleasure to work with and has made the entire voluntary benefits program simple and worry-free. I highly recommend him for any company looking to start this type of program.

Sincerely,
