

Capability Statement

ABOUT RESTORATION HORTICULTURE

Restoration Horticulture is a horticultural consultancy firm focussed on biodiversity restoration, innovative horticultural solutions and a commitment to excellence, we specialise in providing comprehensive services that empower clients to create thriving ecosystems and green, resilient landscapes.

Restoration Horticulture draws on 20 years professional experience delivering horticultural services for environmental restoration projects - consultancy services cover seed collection, seed resource management, wholesale nursery operations, seed dormancy and propagation techniques, seed bulking and seed production areas.

CONSULTANCY SERVICES

Nursery Operations:

Expertise in developing efficiencies in nursery operations and production co-ordination.

Restoration Consultancy:

Expertise in site assessments, project planning, and plant species selection.

Seed Resource Management:

Innovative approaches to seed collection, sourcing, propagation and storage solutions.

Threatened species:

Specialised knowledge in legislative requirements for restoring endangered plant species.

Community Engagement and Education:

Nursery skills workshop, educational programs, and materials for staff and public awareness.

CLIENTELE

- Wholesale nurseries
- Government agencies involved in environmental conservation
- Private developers committed to green and sustainable infrastructure
- Non-profit organizations focusing on biodiversity and ecological restoration
- Urban and industrial planners seeking environmentally conscious solutions

ABOUT GENERAL MANAGER

Ian Bowie brings over three decades of professional Nursery expertise to the company with experience including native seed collection and restoration horticulture, large-scale nursery production management and pre-grow contract deliveries, Ian's experience speaks for itself.

His journey includes earning trade credentials via a Diploma of Landscape and Applied Science and more recently, accomplishing a Diploma in Horticultural Business Management from the University of Tasmania. Ian's devotion lies in promoting Australia's native flora and the endemic species thriving within the Sydney region.

