Legal terms:

“Consignor” is the owner of the books/materials and accompanying rights. Consignor desires to have APT To Learn represent Consignor with regard to the display and sale of books/materials. From time to time, either party may revise the list of books/materials, and such revisions shall be incorporated in this agreement.

APT To Learn shall keep accurate records of all transactions relating to the books/materials. Consignor may request at any time a list of consigned books/materials, with accompanying resell and consignment prices that are in the possession of APT To Learn. Consignor may also request at any time a list of books/materials that have been sold on behalf of Consignor, with accompanying resell and consignment prices.

APT To Learn shall sell the books/materials at the prices established above, and all consigned transactions made to customers will be final. All income paid as a result of the sale of any books/materials will be held in an account for the Consignor, to be paid directly to the Consignor or to be used as store credit, as requested by Consignor. Consignor may request payment at any time after the sale of any books/materials.

This agreement may be terminated at any time, at the discretion of either Consignor or APT To Learn, at which time Consignor will have the option to remove all books/materials from the APT To Learn store. If Consignor chooses not to remove books/materials from APT To Learn upon termination of this agreement, those books/materials will become the possession of APT To Learn.

Consignor agrees and acknowledges that the delivery of books/materials is a consignment and not a sale of books/materials to APT To Learn. As Consignor’s agent, APT To Learn has a duty to protect the books/materials, and shall be strictly liable for any damage to the books/materials once in APT To Learn’s possession. If books/materials are destroyed while within APT To Learn’s possession, APT To Learn shall pay the full value as established by the Resell Price.
