Offering call in unison. Oh Lord help us to live this great scripture. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of host, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Grace Beyond Borders

The Higher Loyalty

Unit Theme: Fulfilling Our Obligations to God and Society

Devotional Reading: Revelation 5:1-5

Background Scripture: Jonah 1-4; Galatians 3:1-13 Jonah 3:1-5

Printed Text: Jonah 1:1-3; 3:1-5; 4:6-11

Key Verse: Then said the LORD, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: and should not I spare Nineveh, that great city. (Jonah 4:10-11a, KJV). The book of Jonah opens with the Lord commanding Jonah to go to Nineveh and preach against it (Jonah 1:1-2). Nineveh was a major city in the Assyrian Empire. It became the empire's capital in about 700 BC during the reign of Sennacherib. Jonah prophesied more than 50 years before Nineveh became the seat of government. The city is first mentioned in the Bible when a descendant of Noah's son Ham built it (Genesis 10:11). The Lord observed the city's wickedness. Jonah, however, disobeyed the Lord's command. He traveled to Joppa and boarded a west-bound ship to Tarshish (1:3). The Lord sent a storm to intercept Jonah and the ship. To save the vessel, the sailors lightened its load (Jonah 1:5; compare Acts 27:18). Their efforts failed, leading the crew to cast lots to determine the responsible party for the sudden storm (Jonah 1:6-7). Their process pointed to Jonah (1:7). Jonah revealed that he fled the presence of "the Lord, the God of heaven" (1:9-10). He directed the ship's crew to throw him overboard as a last-ditch effort to calm the storm. They agreed to do so only after requesting that Jonah's God not hold them guilty of murder (1:14). Jonah's story disputed both claims; not only did Israel's God care about all people, but there was nowhere that His power could not reach.

Application for Activation

Jonah's anger reveals his lack of compassion for the Ninevites. This week let us study and learn ways to prevent anger from becoming hatred, bitterness, or unbelief.
