LIBERTY LEGACY DESCRIPTION

LIBERTY LEGACY is a Single Premium Whole Life insurance policy with a guaranteed death benefit and guaranteed cash values. It is designed especially for use in the senior market for those desiring guaranteed values.

The death benefit is immediately greater than the premium paid, creating a larger benefit for beneficiaries.

Focusing on the benefits of life insurance to avoid the costly impact of taxes on the growth and transfer of assets, it is ideal for those seeking to pass on a portion of their wealth to their loved ones in a tax efficient manner while retaining control over the policy cash value in case it is needed.

The initial death benefit is guaranteed for the life of the contract, provided there have been no policy loans, accelerated death benefit payments or the policy has not been surrendered.

After the initial premium, no additional premiums are due or may be added to the policy, and the policy matures at the insured's attained age of 121.

The policy is a Modified Endowment Contract (MEC). Under current tax law, borrowing or withdrawing funds from a MEC results in a taxable distribution to the extent of any earnings or gain which becomes taxable as income. A 10% penalty may apply to any amounts included as taxable income unless the owner has attained the age of 59½ or meets another exception described in the Internal Revenue Code.

Liberty Legacy death benefits and cash values are not subject to interest rate fluctuations, cost of insurance increases or variable investment risks.

Cash value loans against the policy are available if needed.

In the event of a Terminal or Chronic Illness, up to 80% of the Death Benefit (subject to a maximum of $250,000) may be accessed to help with those costly related expenses.

Compared to alternative investments, it may take years, if ever, to achieve the after-tax death benefit value created by Liberty Legacy. The chart below shows the Liberty Legacy Death Benefit for a Female Age 60, Preferred, Non-Tobacco user compared to the after-tax accumulation of $100,000 at various rates of interest.

GUARANTEED DEATH BENEFIT

Liberty Legacy provides a guaranteed level death benefit to the insured's attained age 121. The Guaranteed Death Benefit equals the Face Amount minus any indebtedness.

ISSUE AGES

Ages 50 – 80, based on the insured's age on their last birthday

PREMIUMS

Premiums vary by gender, issue age, tobacco/nicotine class and health risk. Underwriting classes are either Preferred or Standard. Preferred rates are offered for those determined Table 1-4. Standard rates are offered for those determined Table 5-8.

The tobacco/nicotine class is based on nicotine or tobacco use (i.e. including, but not limited to, cigars, cigarettes, pipes, smokeless tobacco, e-cigarettes, nicotine gum, etc.) in the prior 12 months.

The single premium must accompany the application unless there is a request for funds via 1035 exchange or funds transfer.

PREMIUM LIMITS

Minimum Premium at all issue ages: $20,000

Maximum Premium: Varies by issue age and underwriting classification. The maximum premium issued without prior special approval is shown in the chart on page 5. Note that the upper premium limit for many classifications is $500,000, but it is considerably lower for other classifications due to the substantially larger death benefit relative to the single premium. The Liberty Legacy policy is designed to feature simplified, point-of-sale underwriting and therefore must limit large risks due to the relatively brief amount of health information available for underwriting.

Refer to the Charts on pages 5 and 6 to determine the Maximum Face Amount and/or Premium available by underwriting classification.

SUITABILITY

You must complete a current suitability form and submit it with each application.

Based on the suitability information gathered in the transaction, you must have reasonable grounds to believe the transaction being recommended to the applicant is suitable.

REPLACEMENTS

If the sale of a Liberty Legacy policy involves an exchange or replacement of existing life insurance or annuity contract, you must complete the appropriate forms concerning the replacement of life insurance and annuities at the time of application.

POLICY LOANS

Policy loans are available at any time while the policy is in force. The maximum loan value is equal to the cash value on the date of the loan less the amount of any existing loans and loan interest to the next policy anniversary. Policy loan interest, determined at a maximum rate of 7.4% in arrears compounded annually, must be paid each year while the loan exists. Unpaid policy loans and policy loan interest will reduce the guaranteed death benefit.

Liberty Legacy SPWL Agent Guide

Policy loan interest accrues from the date of the loan. If interest is not paid when due, it will be added to the loan and will bear interest at the policy loan rate.

EXCLUSIONS AND LIMITATIONS

Refer to the policy and riders for applicable exclusions and limitation, including the two-year suicide provision and contestability period. You must disclose all policy limitations and exclusions to the client.

ACCELERATED DEATH BENEFITS

An Accelerated Death Benefit provision is included in all Liberty Legacy policies for no additional premium.

This provision allows the owner to receive a portion of the policy's death benefit if the insured is diagnosed with a terminal illness or if the insured becomes chronically ill.

Terminal illness is defined as a disease or illness that is expected to result in the death of the insured within 12 months. We will require satisfactory proof that the insured is terminally ill. Proof will include, but is not limited to, a physician's statement.

Chronic illness is defined as a disease or illness, certified by a physician, such that the insured;

- Is unable to perform at least two activities of daily living and has been unable to do so for the previous 90 days due to a loss of functional capacity; (eating, toileting, transferring, bathing, dressing and continence);
or
- Requires substantial supervision to protect the person from threats to health and safety because of severe cognitive impairment. Severity of cognitive impairment is measured by impairment in short or long-term memory, orientation to people, places, or time and deductive or abstract reasoning

The provision will terminate:

- Upon termination of the base policy,
- Upon written request of the owner; or
- On the date we receive request to surrender the policy.

Maximum Accelerated Benefit Amount

Accelerated benefits may not exceed the lesser of $250,000 or 80% of the face amount.

Accelerated benefit proceeds are paid to the owner as a lump sum or, upon request, in equal monthly installments for a fixed period. No other settlement options are available.

The annual guaranteed interest rate used in computing the installments is 1.0%. Any installments payable after the death of the insured will be paid to the beneficiary as a lump sum equal to the present value of the remaining payments computed at an interest rate of no less than 1.0%.

Please review the policy form for further details and definitions of the Accelerated Benefit Rider.

Taxation of Accelerated Death Benefits

Liberty Bankers Life Insurance Company and their representatives are not permitted by law to offer tax or legal advice. Proceeds payable under this rider may be taxable. Advise your clients to consult with a professional tax advisor prior to requesting such benefits. With that understanding, under current law, it is generally established that life insurance death benefits are received income tax free by beneficiaries. Benefits paid on account of terminal illness are considered paid on account of death, but those paid on account of chronic illness are subject to several conditions before they are not taxable. (See Addendum on page 15.) However, there are exceptions to this general rule. Again, advise your clients to consult a tax professional to determine how these benefits will affect them based on their specific situation.

UNDERWRITING GUIDELINES

These guidelines are intended to be a practical working tool to help determine the insurability of applicants with medical impairments. As part of the application, a telephone interview is conducted by Elite Sales Processing, Inc. (ESP), with the applicant and agent. ESP is a valued partner, known for its reputation, knowledge, experience and integrity.

HEIGHT & WEIGHT CHART

If the applicant does not fall within the minimum/maximum weight for their height, no coverage can be issued.

COMPLETING THE APPLICATION

Once you determine that Liberty Legacy is suitable for the applicant, an underwriting evaluation must be completed to determine the insurability, underwriting classification, and face amount to be issued, based on the single premium.

You should carefully complete the application, knowing that upon completion a required telephone interview will be performed with an LBL authorized phone Interview Specialist from ESP who will review and confirm each of the answers just given by the applicant.

Prior to the telephone interview, remind the applicant that the underwriting review is crucial to a fair and honest decision. Tell them that you will ask them all of the application questions and record their answers. Then, the Interview Specialist will repeat the questions and double check their answers.

During this brief telephone call, an on-line Medical Information Bureau (MIB) search and prescription drug database (Rx Check) search will be performed to help identify any major undisclosed health issues. This may result in them asking additional clarifying questions. These follow-up questions are important to our selection of risk. Usually, the entire telephone call takes about 15 minutes.

All applications will be approved or denied based on the results of the telephone interview. No medical examination or APSs will be ordered. An underwriting decision will be made during this one brief telephone call.

Based on the telephone interview review, the policy will be issued as either Preferred or Standard, unless the application is declined. Experience measured over many of applicants indicates that we may generally expect about 70% of all applicants may be issued Preferred, about 15% issued Standard and about 15% declined.

Underwriting Review and Appeal

For cases initially declined, the Interview Specialist may offer the applicant the opportunity to qualify for coverage, pending the result of a more in-depth review (and possibly a few clarifying questions) of the applicant. This option will be offered by the Interview Specialist only if certain confidential information provided by MIB and Rx Check meets internal underwriting criteria.

This is an optional step which may result in coverage being issued. However, there will be up to a 24 hour delay in the final underwriting determination. Advise the applicant that they may receive an additional telephone call from ESP to clarify some of the medical conditions.

ESP HOURS OF OPERATION:

Monday – Thursday: 8:00 am to 9:30 pm (CST)
Friday: 8:00 am to 5:00 pm (CST)

It is expected that the interview will be completed at time of call. If for any reason the call cannot be completed on the first attempt, leave a message and ESP will return the call within 10 minutes.

Simple Telephone Interview Procedures

1. Complete the application, including the MIB and HIPAA Authorization, and ask all the health questions before initiating the telephone interview.
2. Call 1-888-844-0344 with the applicant nearby. Provide your name and agent number, Liberty Bankers Life Insurance Company's name, and the name of the product for which the applicant is applying, Liberty Legacy. Be sure to advise the Interview Specialist if the applicant does not speak English or is hearing impaired. The telephone interview service has interpreters that can assist clients in numerous languages and assist with impairments.
3. The interviewer will ask you some basic information about the applicant.
4. Have the applicant speak directly with the interviewer in order to confirm the answers to the application questions. When completed, the interviewer will speak again with you.
5. The underwriter will advise you of their decision: Preferred, Standard or Declined.
6. If approved Preferred or Standard, submit the application in the normal manner along with the premium (if applicable), making sure that all signatures are complete.
7. If declined, please submit the application to LBL without payment and simply include a note that the application was declined. If initially declined, the Interview Specialist may offer the applicant an Underwriting Review and Appeal in which a member of the underwriting team can gather more medical information, and at a later date, perhaps offer a life insurance policy.
8. Verify the personal information provided by the applicant(s) by viewing a state issued driver's license, state issued I.D. card, military I.D. card, permanent U.S. Resident (Green Card), passport or other government issued picture I.D. card.

Note – If the application is taken when the telephone interview service is not available, leave a voicemail with ESP and include the applicant's telephone number and identifying information. The Interview Specialist will call the applicant the next business day to complete the interview. Indicate on the producer checklist "Producer Not Present." After the interview with the client is complete, the specialist will contact you with the results.

Important – Only the applicant can complete the telephone interview. If you are not already contracted with Liberty Bankers Life Insurance Company, the interview will not be conducted.

Accelerated Death Benefits

Over the past several years, the inclusion of an Accelerated Death Benefit, usually by way of a rider, has become a popular part of life insurance contracts. While not of general interest to annuity professionals, those who also offer life insurance products to their clients find ADB¹ provisions to fit well within their clients' needs.

ADB provisions generally provide for the payment of some portion of the life insurance policy's death benefit before the insured's death, most typically for either terminal illness, chronic illness and/or critical care. This edition will explore each of these benefit categories, as well as the income tax impact on each.

Terminal Illness Benefits

Internal Revenue Code §101 contains the acceptable exclusions from gross income pertaining to certain death benefits. Subsection (a) provides that payments under a life insurance contract paid by reason of the death of the insured are generally not included in gross income. Further, §101(g)(1)(A) provides that any amount received under a life insurance contract on the life of an insured who is a terminally ill individual will similarly be treated as being paid by reason of death, thus not included in gross income.

However, in order to receive this exclusion, the insured must meet the Code's definition of a terminally ill individual, which means that the insured must be "... certified by a physician as having an illness or physical condition which can reasonably be expected to result in death in 24 months or less after the date of the certification."

¹ For purposes of this article, we'll refer to Accelerated Death Benefits with the acronym ADB, which is not to be confused with its more traditional use in reference to Accidental Death Benefits.

Accordingly, in most cases benefits paid under a terminal illness benefit are not included in income. However, there are a couple of exceptions. The first pertains to business related policies when the benefits are paid to a taxpayer other than the insured by reason of the insured being a director, officer or employee of the taxpayer. The other is in situations where all or part of the death benefit would have been included in gross income due to a transfer of the policy for valuable consideration.

Chronic Illness

Section 101(g)(1)(B) contains another situation under which amounts paid before the insured's death will nonetheless be treated as paid by reason of their death. Amounts received under a life insurance contract on the life of an insured who is a chronically ill individual will receive this tax treatment.

The Internal Revenue Code, in §7702B(c)(2), defines a chronically ill individual as one who has been certified by a licensed health care practitioner as:

- Being unable to perform, without substantial assistance from another individual, at least 2 activities of daily living² for a period of at least 90 days due to a loss of functional capacity,
- Having a level of disability similar to that just described as determined under regulations prescribed by the Department of Health and Human services, or

² Eating, toileting, transferring, bathing, dressing and continence.

- Requiring substantial supervision in order to protect the individual from threats to health and safety due to a severe cognitive impairment.

(It's important to mention that this general definition may be further restricted by the terms of the ADB provisions of the insurance contract.)

However, with chronic illness benefits, there is another condition that must be met in order to qualify for their exclusion from income. Benefits must be either:

- For costs incurred by the payee for qualified long-term care services provided for the insured and are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. In this instance, the terms of the life insurance contract providing the benefit must provide that it does not pay or reimburse expenses incurred to the extent they are or would be reimbursable under title XVIII of the Social Security Act (i.e., Medicare).
- Made on a per diem or other periodic basis within the limits set by the Internal Revenue Service ($360 per day in 2017). Under this rule, payments are made without regard to expenses actually incurred.

Critical Care

Critical care accelerated benefits are typically paid when the insured suffers a major critical illness, such as heart attack, stroke, cancer, end stage renal failure, blindness, a major organ transplant or amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, commonly known as Lou Gehrig's disease.

Critical care benefits are much less common as the other forms of ADB, primarily because the income tax treatment is not clear. The IRC sections (§§ 101 and 7702B) that define the tax treatment of terminal illness and chronic illness benefits contain no reference to critical care benefits.

The only guidance relating to critical care benefits is found in a number of Private Letter Rulings, which cannot be relied on by anyone other than the taxpayer to whom issued. However, they do offer some insight as to how the Service might view other cases with substantially the same set of circumstances.

In the rulings, the Service ruled that critical illness benefits would be excluded from taxable income because they would be treated as accident or health insurance under IRC §104(a)(3). This section allows such benefits to be excludable, except for amounts received by an employee to the extent such amounts are:

- Attributable to contributions by the employer which were not included in the employee's gross income, or
- Are paid by the employer.

The rulings also reference §105, which provides for the exclusion from income to the extent that a medical expense deduction is not taken for the expenses covered by insurance. Thus, it would appear that critical care benefits are not included if the cost is paid by the insured with after tax dollars and they do not take a tax deduction for the related expenses.

Reporting

Amounts received under terminal illness or chronic illness accelerated benefits will be reported to the IRS using Form 1099-LTC. Accordingly, like any other matter pertaining to completing income tax returns, it is a very good idea for the taxpayer to keep accurate, detailed records that relate to amounts received, especially those for chronic illness benefits. That will ensure that the client is fully prepared to discuss these issues with their legal or tax advisor.
