President's Message - Decorating and Celebrating

I officially started installing my Christmas outdoor lights on November 19. It takes me about two weeks to put up everything, and I wait until AFTER Thanksgiving to turn anything on. My first job is to install the white icicle style lights on our gutters, first and second story. I have been increasingly scared to stand on the very sloped second story roof for the upper lights. Our roof has shed a lot of its gravel and does not have nearly the grip as years past. And although I haven't had to clean the gutters out from leaves, there is a ton of gravel. Note to self - new roof in 2023!

I've been installing 10 sets of Ribbon-style net lights on our front pillar supports for 20 years. These lights are set exactly inside the trim frame and there is only one manufacturer that makes this exact shaped string. I've used about 25 strings over the lifetime of putting them up. I staple the lights to pillars and run the extension cords in a way that limits them from overheating. This year I bought sheets of door panel and painted them to match my pillars. Then I secured the ribbon lights to the panels. The use of the wood speeds up the installation process greatly. It also eliminates the chance that I'll staple through the wiring (I used to staple while hanging on a ladder standing with only one foot.)

Then there's the rest of the street and lawn decorations. I have an 8-foot Inflatable Santa that I place on top of a 4X6 painted plywood and place spiral trees and lighted presents all around. This is Santa #3 in the 25 years in our house. Santa shares space with our 15 foot Inflatable Rudolph and his 12 foot Inflatable girlfriend Clarice. I put up one or the other each day, as there is not enough space to put them all up at once.

We always have a great time celebrating Christmas and look forward to having our adult children home for their visit.

We will be celebrating as a club too - with both our Cookie Exchange party and Club Christmas dinner.

While we celebrate good times and friendship, we also bid farewell to some long time members who will be “retiring” from the club. Shirley Hill (joined in 1993) AND Ralph and Barbara Brabo (joined in 1979) have sold their Corvettes and will not be joining us at future events, unless we are lucky enough to have them as guests. Also Woody and Courtney Robinson sold their Corvette and will be taking a break (Woody says he’ll be buying another Corvette!) We will miss dearly our tenured members who cannot be active with us any longer. There are many, many good times we’ve had together.

See you at our parties!

And MERRY CHRISTMAS

Save the wave - Jeff

Vice President's Report

October 2022

NBCA: We need to coordinate with Trinity Touring Club in Redding and Thunderhill Raceway in Willows to get dates for two weekend autocrosses next year. Jeff will be making the contacts to try to coordinate the dates in the spring and fall.

WSCC: Jeff Farber, Dan Divita, and I attended WSCC's meeting October 15th, and Jeff reported on the Caravan with a little help from almost everybody there. They all had a great time and many members wanted to tell everyone some of their stories.

The election of officers for WSCC was conducted. Norm Rose was elected to continue as President for another two years, as did Margie Zamora as the Treasurer and Gary Nolan as the Public/Sponsor Relations Director. Regrettably, no one was identified to run for the position as the Publications Director. Norm Rose and Vice President Ken Jackzeit indicated that they would continue to search for an individual to fill that position.

Respectfully Submitted by,

Steve Boyer
Vice President

Barbara and I went to Laguna Seca when the NTT Indy Car series ended their season there with their final race. Ken Albers coordinated an effort to get the Indy Car drivers to do a parade lap in WSCC member Corvette convertibles. I had Jack Harvey from the Rahal Letterman Lanigan Racing team sponsored by HyVee.

It was cool.

Thanks, Ken for the photos and putting this all together.

Let's do it again next year.

2022 Veterans Day Parade, Petaluma, CA

Once again, I came back to my home club NBCA to participate in Petaluma's Parade. Kevin (and Betty) have organized this event for over ten years. Back in the early days we started with about five cars. NBCA jumped on board big time and this year there were about thirty-five cars.

But that's not the real story. My car arrived in Novato, CA dirty and needed a wash. I bought a coupon thru the club for Matt and Jeff's Car Wash in Novato. The day before the Parade I took the car to get it washed. They have to hand-wash our cars because of the wide tires. I gave them my fob so they could position the car. After they moved the car to the drying area, they LOCKED the fob in the car. You could look through the windshield and there it was, sitting on top of the dash. A big oops.

What to do! I reached out to Jacob at Novato Chevrolet for help. I didn't think they could do a lock out service because the window indexes into the roof panel. They would cut me a new emergency key, which they didn't have in stock, but I would have to show them my registration before they would do that. I would have to go to Victory Chevy to get the key and bring it back to Novato to be cut. Where's the registration, you guessed it, in the glove box. I would have to sign a disclaimer before they cut the key or Chevy might fine them $25,000. We decided the best action would get the car over to Novato Chevy. I called AAA for help.

While waiting for AAA to arrive, Karyn came to my rescue as we had planned to go to lunch. Jeff was outside, very apologetic regarding the whole incident, offered to wax my car, give me a drink, all on the house. He offered to wash and wax Karyn's car as well. AAA showed up and the driver was able to get in the car, not from the top of the window, but from the rear side. He slid an air bag between the glass and the rubber gasket, expanded it and was able to get his rod (Slim Jim) into the interior. He couldn't put enough pressure on the unlock button, but he could reach down and grab the emergency door release. Walla! I got in, moved the fob out and back into the interior, foot on the brake, hit the start button and the engine roared to life.

While Karyn and I went to Hop Monk they washed and waxed her car. I called Novato Chevy to let them know everything was resolved and thanked them for their help. According to Nick, if you hit the lock button on your fob and leave it in the car you will lock your fob in your car. Good to know. Recommendation: I you must leave your fob with an unknown 3rd party, take your emergency key out of your fob and keep it with you. Always an adventure! Thank you Matt & Jeff's, Novato Chevrolet and AAA for your help.

Ingredients

- 2 orange sliced
- 2 cup cranberries
- 1 cup pomegranate seeds
- 4 cup cranberry juice
- 4 cups orange juice
- 2 cup pomegranate juice
- 4 cups Sierra Mist or Sprite
- 2 cup white rum optional
- Rosemary for garnish
- Ice

Instructions

1. Combine all ingredients in a large pitcher or punch bowl over ice. If using a really large punch bowl, you can double the recipe.

Notes

- This punch can be made ahead of time, but don't add the ice or soda until just before serving so as not to dilute or lose its fizz.
- You can sub the lemon-lime soda for ginger ale.
- You can add lemon and limes slices as well.
- Keep alcohol on the side for guests to add their own and keep the punch itself kid-friendly.
- I like white rum, spiced rum, whiskey, and vodka with this recipe.
