DOMINICK DONATO RELEASED AFTER 14 YEARS IN PRISON

Had Served More Than Minimum Term Imposed by Court in 1930

Dominick Donato who in 1929 participated in the houdup and robbery of an alleged horse room in Franklin Square during which a Trov man was wounded in the fork order of County July Harry E. Clinton

While Donato's release from prison actually comes due to his having obtained a writ of habean corpus from Judge Wyman S Bascom of Washington County based on an error made in Courty Court here in 1931 when Donato was resentenced the prisoner had served more than the minimum term

On Murch 7, 1939 the records show Denato pleuted gallis a Rensselver County Court to an indictment charging him with robhery, second degree life was sentenced to serve from 12 - 'to 15 years in state's prison. This sentence was imposed on h.m on the claim that he had been aimed with a revolver at the time of the rione. Later the man who had been wounded in the foot duting the holdup said he could not identify Donato as the person who had fired the revolver Donato was survived by his mother. Mrs. Then returned to County Court here and the sentence was changed to be from 7's to 15 years

Several weeks ago Donato obtained a writ from County Judge Bascom claiming that when the second sentence was imposed upon him here it did not take into consideration 15 days that he had served in jail here. Judge Bascom submitted the case to Rensselaer County Court for determination. Edward J. Poland represented lined by Dist Atty. Earle J. Wiley and 22 days in state's prison and at the county jail here, Judge Clinton ordered that the sentence as imposed on Donato in 1931 he Donato had already served and that he be discharged.
