

Single mothers Housing in Georgia

In Carroll County affordable housing is a problem. We have been checking with housing authorities, but there are no places and they are not accepting applications at this time. There are some apartments according to the income, but waiting lists are long.

If so, you may check your eligibility:

- My Sister's House: <https://atlantamission.org/my-sisters-house/>
An Atlanta-based shelter for women and children experiencing homelessness, offering a safe environment with services such as counseling, life skills classes, and vocational training.
- S.H.A.R.E. House, Inc.: If there is history of Domestic Violence - <https://sharehousedouglas.com/> Located in Douglasville, this organization provides emergency crisis services, shelter, and transitional housing, along with trauma counseling and support groups for women and children.
- Sheltering Grace: <https://shelteringgrace.org/>
Participants attend programs that progressively help them understand their circumstances, why they are where they are in life, take ownership of them and build lives that go far beyond their circumstances. A key distinction in our program is the three-tiered approach that recognizes the unique physical, emotional and financial hardships involved in being pregnant and homeless.
