

TEACH Campus Boundaries Policy

All students and families must remain within TEACH's designated campus areas. These boundaries apply to everyone, including parents, siblings, and guests.

Permitted Areas Outside of Class

Anyone on campus who is not attending a class must remain in one of the following areas:

- The gym area.
- The gym balcony–high school age only. Refer to the birthdate requirement posted at the bottom of the balcony steps.
- The backyard play area or fields, staying within the permitted boundaries.

No one may sit in the hallways of any building during class time. Hallways must remain clear and quiet for movement between classes.

Hallways, empty classrooms, and other areas of the property are not places to gather or spend break time. Students and families may pass through as needed to reach classes, restrooms, or designated areas.

Off-Limits Areas

No one may, at any time:

- Be on or close to the fences or walls separating the campus from neighboring homes.
- Enter any air-conditioning unit area or enclosure.
- Go past the tree line in the field.

Do not climb, sit on, lean against, or play near the boundary fences or walls. Balls or other belongings that enter an off-limits area must be reported to TEACH staff. Students and families may not enter these areas to retrieve them.

Family Responsibility & Compliance

Parents are responsible for reviewing these boundaries with their children and ensuring that siblings and guests follow them. Students who are dropped off must be able to remain within the permitted areas independently.

Everyone must follow directions from TEACH instructors and staff regarding campus boundaries. Violations will be addressed under the TEACH Respect & Behavior Policy.

Parent/Guardian Acknowledgment

I have read, understand, and agree to the TEACH Campus Boundaries Policy. I understand that students and families who are not in class must remain in the gym area, the age-restricted balcony, or the backyard play area and fields within the permitted boundaries. I understand that no one may sit in the hallways of any building during class time. I agree that my family will stay away from the fences and walls separating the property from neighboring homes, remain outside all air-conditioning unit areas, and never go past the tree line in the field. I will review these expectations with my children and guests.
