Math

It is highly recommended to use a mastery-based math curriculum at home in addition to the academic structure, each week during their Core Math Hour, where students will be taught Biblical principles, leading ideas, and character development in relation to math.

RECOMMENDED @ Home

Choose a curriculum that works for your student. There are many others to choose from. No requirement to use from this list.	Math-U-SeeMath-U-Seehttps://mathusee.com

Literature & History

Students will need to purchase literature books for each study.

Any extra curriculum needed for literature and history will be found in the books listed above in family section or online
