

The Big Five

made by

Buffalo

Elephant

Rhino

Lion

Leopard

Buffalos have exceptional hearing and smell.

They can live up to 20 years.

Lion

Lions are carnivores.

The females do the hunting and bring food to the male.

Buffalo

Buffalos are herbivores.

They live in herds in open fields.

The lion is considered the king of the animals.

Babies are called cubs.

Elephants have large ears, tusks and trunks.

They use their trunks as hands to eat.

Rhino

Rhinos are herbivores.

Rhino is short for rhinoceros which means nose horn.

Elephant

Elephants are herbivores.

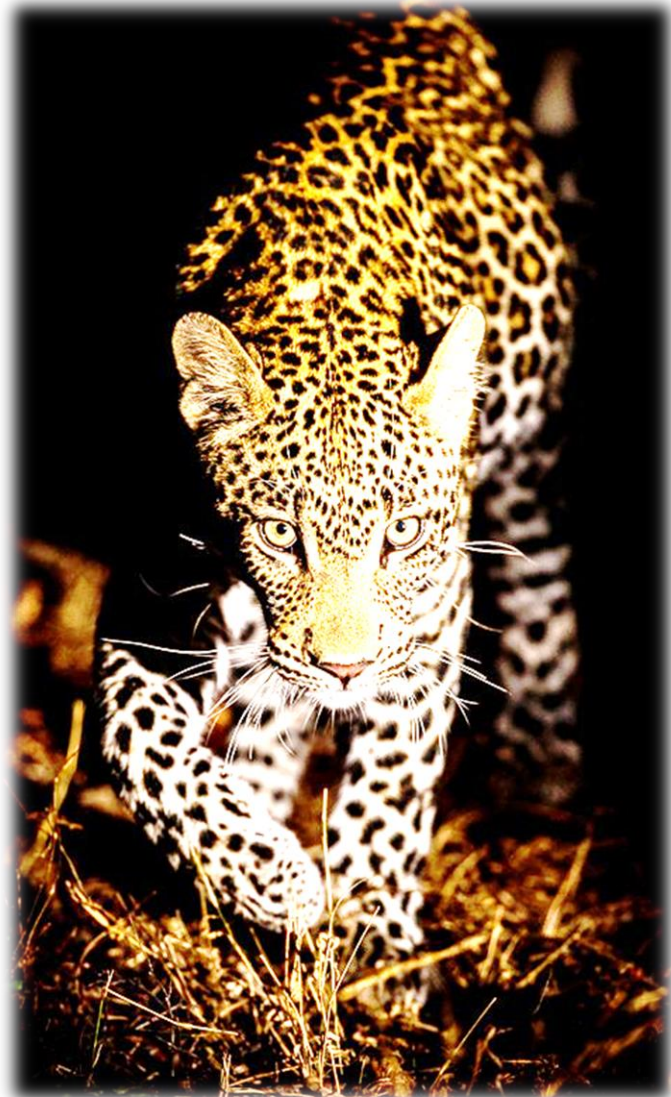

They are the largest animals on land, can grow 3m tall!

They can weigh up to 2500 kg.

Males are called bulls and live alone.

They are nocturnal, sleep in the day, hunt at night.

Leopard

Leopards are carnivores.

They have black markings on their fur called rosettes.

They are fast and can run up to 58km/h!

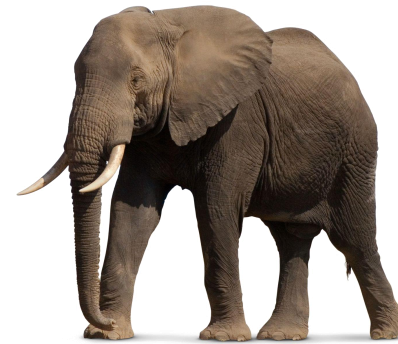

Leopards are part of the big cat family.

Instructions:

Roll the dice.

Share a fact about
the animal you see on its face.

Elephant

Rhino

Lion

Share 2 facts about one of the Big Five.

Buffalo

Leopard

Roll & Tell

Lion

Leopard

Elephant

Buffalo

Rhino

The Big

Five

Instructions:

- Cut the paper strips.
- Fold & Put them in a small jar/ box.
- Kids choose one & try to answer the question.

Which Big 5 animal is the king of the animals?

Which Big 5 animal has a nose horn?

Do rhinos eat other animals?

What does an elephant do
with it's trunk?

Which Big 5 animal
is nocturnal?

Which Big 5 animal
has great hearing?

How tall can an elephant grow?

What are baby lions called?