International Women's Day has been around for over 100 years. Not only does it recognise women's achievements but also has an impact on women's advancement, equality and discrimination issues.

We are celebrating International Women's Day here in Lancashire with a delicious afternoon tea in one of our special WI owned halls in Parbold followed by a talk by Steve Williams, the subject of which is aptly named - "Lancashire Lasses". Steve is a member of the Chorley Historical Society and is an expert on all matters relating to Lancashire. From Suffragettes to Mill girls, from sportswomen to show people - Learn more about the famous and important women who have put Lancashire on the map. The afternoon will close with a short performance from Parbold's ukulele group.

Parking is available at the rear of the shops and at the library. The train station is one minute away serving the Southport to Manchester line via Wigan. The M6 junction 27 is 4 miles away.

This event will be available to book on the LFWI website from Monday 2nd December and the closing date for bookings is Monday 24th February.
