

LAST CHANCE SURVIVAL SIMULATION WORKSHOP

PALOMAR MOUNTAIN FIRE SAFE COUNCIL

The Last Chance Survival Simulation Workshop was developed to empower residents in high-risk, wildfire prone communities, to prepare for evacuation and potential wildfire entrapments. Each year, it becomes more apparent that there is a need to enhance wildfire safety and evasion training for at-risk communities.

About the training:

- Free to local residents, this one day, in-depth workshop covers recognition primed decision-making, open-source fire intelligence, contingency planning, and other practices that may enhance the likelihood of surviving a fire entrapment scenario.
- This workshop expands upon "Ready Set Go", a widely accepted statewide standard for wildfire preparation, and builds on topics covered in the "Fire Operations in the WUI" workshop.
- In the afternoon, we'll take the case studies, planning models, and other information covered, and apply it to your community's unique landscape and challenges by simulating an evacuation and visiting "Temporary Refuge Areas".
