Allison Brief is a diverse artist that has a beautiful way for picking and matching colors very detailed oriented. Being grounded and visionary at the same time with the insight of what is right for any individual by asking the right questions. I have told Allison that she would be an asset for any Architectural firm for colors selections on new projects by creating color boards and selecting art work in any new business. Also Allison has always satisfied the client with previous commissioned work that I have seen. I have worked with Allison on projects and would be grateful to work with her again.
