Setria® Glutathione – the one that gets in
Setria = Set (Balance) + Tria (tripetide). A unique tripeptide form of glutathione that has been clinically shown to raise blood glutathione levels.*

Why is glutathione important?

The body's master antioxidant
- Protects cells from oxidative stress
- Supports the immune system
- The body produces its own glutathione, but levels can be depleted by poor diet, pollution, toxins, stress and aging.

Where does it come from?

Glutathione
- Protects cells from oxidative stress
- Supports the immune system
- The body produces its own glutathione, but levels can be depleted by poor diet, pollution, toxins, stress and aging.

A recent published study shows:

1. Setria® can help increase the body's stores of glutathione*
   - 6 Months
     - Setria® 1000mg/day
     - Baseline
     - Whole blood: +30%
     - Red blood cells: +35%
     - Buccal cells: +260%
   - Taking 1,000mg/day of Setria® showed a 30% increase in whole blood, 35% increase in red blood cells and 260% increase in buccal cells glutathione levels.

2. Setria® can increase NK cell activity two fold and support the immune system
   - 3 Months
     - Baseline
     - Setria® 1000mg/day
     - Whole blood
     - Red blood cells
     - Buccal cells
   - At three months the study revealed a 2 fold increase in NK cell activity at 1,000mg of Setria® (NK cells support immune health).

3. Setria® supplementation needs to be ongoing to maintain elevated levels
   - One month after supplementation ended glutathione levels began to return to pre-study levels.
   - Setria® Glutathione does not adversely affect the body's normal production of glutathione.

CONCLUSION:  Setria® Glutathione supplementation effectively increases the body’s stores of glutathione and supports the immune system*
