

Who Does God Say I Am?

Disclaimer

To fully understand and apply each verse/ Scripture, you must look at the paragraph above and after. Any verse that stands out to you, that you know there's something more to, look up that verse in multiple versions of the Bible (which all say the same thing but are worded differently). Look up the definitions to words you don't know and do a mini study session on the verse you're trying to figure out. Ask God to explain it to you, He is the one who wrote it after all. In order to stand firm in your faith, you must know why you believe in the things you do, which comes from studying to show yourselves approved (2 Timothy 2:15) 'Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who has no need to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth'. All translations in this page are ESV.

~ I am who God says I am

Life and Death are in the Power of the Tongue

'Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and those who love it will eat its fruits' (Proverbs 18:21).

Only we have to ability to change our lives and go in a direction that we'll look back on a year from now and either be proud or embarrassed on what we've done with the time given. We will be held accountable by God on what we've done with our lives. We're called to lift ourselves up to His standard while choosing Him as a guide. We follow His people that are 'ahead' of us while also leading those 'behind' us. It makes no sense to expect a better treatment from anyone when you're unwilling to do it yourself. The only person that came to save you is Jesus, it's up to you to actually do the work given to you. This work happens on the inside out. The reason most people don't know where they're going is because they haven't spent enough time with themselves to know who they are as a person. Everyone is damaged to a degree, hurt and traumatized... it's up to you to rewire yourself (which is very possible) so that you can be who God crated you to be.

It's a 'Be, Do, Have' type of system in which God multiplies. You will have to own up to your mistakes while overcoming past actions. It's your responsibility to choose better for yourself and those around you, which is hard. Work on yourself, examine where you are in each area of your life (using the Godly Elements) and go from there. See where yo can improve in each dimension and work at that every day. The hardest part is believing in yourself, which is why you need God.

Shift your focus on who He says you are and run with that. Spend time with Him alone in the Word, your prayer closet and around other believers. You got this!
