Q&A with Emily Stewart

2021-2022 RECIPIENT OF THE

Crosley Jayne Buchner Memorial Scholarship

Describe your medical school experience so far.

While medical school has certainly been challenging, it has also been exciting and a lot of fun. Toward the middle of my first year, I was able to find a system that allows me to study effectively and still have time for exercise and other hobbies. I have really enjoyed the courses so far during my second year. I'm excited to be done with pre-clinical courses and start clerkships next year.

Describe an event or person in your life that has shaped you.

My grandmother had a very big impact on my life growing up. She was the kindest person I have ever met and I always aspired to treat people the way she did. Watching her get progressively sicker and eventually pass away during my senior year of college taught me a lot about the type of physician I hope to one day be. I want my future patients and their families to be able to trust me and know that I see them as more than just a medical diagnosis. I want to learn about their lives and aspirations while supporting them and working to create a personalized healthcare plan that meets their needs.

What achievements in your life are you most proud of?

Graduating from college is a major achievement that I am very proud of. The support that I received from my family and friends during my undergraduate career was a very important part of my success during college.

Describe your journey to this point. What makes it unique?

I was born and raised in southern Indiana. I plan to move back and practice medicine there after finishing residency. I attended kindergarten through high school at the same small school in my hometown. After high school, I went to the University of Louisville and received a degree in cellular biology. My journey is unique because I am the first person in my family to earn a college degree.

What are your hobbies?

Outside of school, I enjoy spending time outdoors, kayaking, fishing, and hiking. I also enjoy listening to music and spending time with my family and friends.

What does it mean to you to receive this scholarship?

Receiving the Crosley Jayne Buchner Memorial Scholarship is a great honor. I am very grateful to have gotten to learn about her story and the impact that she had on those around her. Her story reminded me of why I entered medical school and the goals that I am working toward - to one day make an impact on the lives of my future patients and their families.

Thank you for your generous support of Indiana University School of Medicine.
