

The List of images- about Sayyed Hasan Modares Page-English

1-Sayyed Esmaeel Modares, First child of Sayyed Hasan Modares. He taught in a religious school in Isfahan all his life. Photographer: ?, Date: ?

2-Sayyed Abdol Baghi Modares, Second child of Sayyed Hasan Modares and a physician. Photographer: ?, Date: ?

3-Fatemeh Baygom Modares, Forth child of Sayyed Hasan Modares, in her house in Isfahan, Photographer: Ali Modares, Date: ?

4-Hossein Modares, Sayyed Hasan Modares's nephew and student in Jade-ye Kouchak School, Isfahan, standing in front of a room in which Sayyed Hasan Modares sat to teach. Hossein was very close to Modares. He wrote his memories from Modares to help Ali Modares with writing his book about Modares. Photographer: Ali Modares, Date: around 1330 H.SH. (1951 A.D., 1370 A.H.)

5-Sayyed Abdol Baghi Modares and Sayyed Hasan Modares in their house, Photographer: ?, Date: ?

6- From right to left: Sayyed Abdol Baghi Modares, Sayyed Ismaeel Modares, three gentlemen from Kaashmar, Al-e Taahaa (a family friend of Sayyed Ismaeel), Jamaal (the son of Ismaeel), and two other gentlemen from Kaashmar. Photographer: ?, Date: around 1325 H.SH. (1946 A.D., 1365 A.H.)

Mahmoud Mostofian, Mohammad Kaazem Jahansouzi, and Habib-allah Khalaj carried Sayyed Hasan Modares's body to this cemetery after they poisoned and suffocated him. They demanded the gravedigger (name: ?) to quickly finish the ceremonial prayer, bury the body, and never discuss it with anyone. The gravedigger realized that the body belonged to an important person. He marked the place, a few days later added some bricks around the grave, and later showed the site to a couple of trusted people from Kaashmar.

7-Mohammad Modares 1339-1389 H.SH. (1960-2010 A.D., 1380-1431 A.H.), First child of Ali Modares, Standing next to Sayyed Hasan Modares's grave, Photographer: Ali Modares, Date: 1345 H.SH. (1966 A.D., 1437 A.H.)

8-Sayyed Abdol Baghi Modares's grave, Date on the Grave: 1282-1366 H.SH. (1903-1987 A.D., 1321-1408 A.H.) Ibn Baabvihey Cemetery, Near Ray city, Photographer: Mahshid Modares, Date: 1384 H.SH. (2005 A.D., 1426 A.H.)

9-Sayyed Abdol Baghi Modares's grave, Date on the Grave: 1282-1366 H.SH. (1903-1987 A.D., 1321-1408 A.H.) Ibn Baabvihey Cemetery, Near Ray city, Photographer: Mahshid Modares, Date: 1384 H.SH. (2005 A.D., 1426 A.H.)

10-Fatemeh Modares in her trip to Tehran to visit her son, Ali Modares and his family. Photographer: Ali Modares, Date: 1349 H.Sh. (1970 A.D., 1390 A.H.)

11-Habibeh and Eshrat, daughters of Fatemeh Modares, Isfahan, Photographer: Iman Yaribakht, Date: ?

12-Ali Modares and his family with Fatemeh Modares during their trip to Mashhad and Kaashmar, Photographer: ?, Date: 1347 H.SH. (1968 A.D., 1439 A.H.)

13-Fatemeh Modares and Ibrahim Abdol Rahimi (a relative of Abdol Baghi Modares) during their trip to Mashhad and Kaashmar, Photographer: ?, Date: ?

14-Fatemeh Modares, Isfahan, Photographer: ?, Date: ?

15-Abdol Baghi Modares, Second son of Sayyed Hasan Modares, during his stay in France. According to Abdol Baghi, Sayyed Hasan Modares told his son to go to France, study medicine, and go back to Iran to serve people as a physician. This trip occurred right after Abdol Baghi's graduation from Dar al-Fonoun Polytechnic School in Tehran. Modares asked Mirza Sayyed Hasan Zaeem (one of the representatives of Shoushtar and a member of the minority group in the Parliament) to help Abdol Baghi with removing the clergies' outfit (Abaa and Ammameh) and purchase several western style business suits from Bazaar before leaving for France. This decision was condemned by a few clergies who personally knew Modares and his family. They felt that this act was an insult toward the community. Sayyed Hasan Modares ignored those comments and sent his son to France with his own income. Nice?, Photographer:?, Date:?

16-Left to Right, Standing: Mr. Keshavarz, Mr. Kiyani, Mr. ? Sitting from Left to Right: ? and Abdol Baghi Modares. Abdol Baghi traveled to France with Mirza Sayyed Hasan Zaeem, a friend of Sayyed Hasan Modares, one of the representatives of Shoushtar, and a member of the minority group in the Parliament. In France, Abdol Baghi met the other four medicine students who were sent to France by the government to study and return to Iran. Modares sent his son with his own income. Abdol Baghi's older brother, Sayyed Ismail Modares, committed to be a clergy by his own choice and continued teaching at a religious school in Isfahan until his death. Nice ?, Photographer:?, Date:?