W177 Rear Wing Guide

None of us want to pay full OEM prices, do we? That's why we turn to the worldwide marketplace to source products, the rear wing is no exception! – this is a seriously expensive item from Mercedes.

Fortunately, is available for around £120-£200 delivered, but needs to be installed professionally, as sometimes some manufacturing tolerance fluctuations means you have to slightly modify. That said, I know a few owners who have successfully installed the spoiler on their own, following online guides.

PTO

- 1) Build the spoiler up off the car as per video 1
- 2) Test fit the spoiler drawing around the new spoiler mounts, marking the standard rear roof spoiler section.

- 3) Draw / mark around the mounts once the spoiler is perfectly seated and all surfaces are touching:

- 4) Remove the standard rear spoiler section from the car
- 5) Drill the relevant holes, mount spoiler
- 6) Reinstall the original spoiler ensuring you peel off any adhesive tape covering the side mounts.
- 7) Admire your work and enjoy your new downforce ;-)
