Deployment #10 The Founding Documents; The Constitution: The Bill of Rights:

Article 1: Freedom of; Religion, Speech, The Press & Peaceable Assembly

Although signed into law in 1787, the signers did so only on the mutual promise that they would amend additional failsafe principles later. By 1789 those ten amendments would preserve individual liberties that might otherwise be crushed by the centralized powers of a new Federal Government. Those amendments became known as The Bill of Rights and followed the general pattern of the Constitution to which they were appended. They directed how the government would disseminate rights and power rather than concentrating them. Just as, *“Power tends to corrupt, and absolute power corrupts absolutely”*¹ the dilution of toxins (like power) in the body minimizes their effect. Here is an abbreviated list of those first ten amendments.

Abbreviated Bill of Rights

First Amendment

Freedom of: Religion, Speech, The Press, Peaceable Assembly, Petition for Redress of Grievances

Second Amendment

The right to keep and bear arms

Third Amendment

No soldier quartered in any house without consent

Fourth Amendment

Right to be secure against unreasonable search or seizure without warrant

Fifth Amendment

Right to: Grand Jury, without double jeopardy; refuse to testify against yourself; due process; fair compensation from Government for eminent-domain-seizure of private property

Sixth Amendment

Right to a speedy public trial by a local jury

Seventh Amendment

Right to a trial by jury once, no double jeopardy

Eighth Amendment

Right to be free from excessive bail, fines, or cruel and unusual punishment.

Ninth Amendment

Rights not enumerated in the Constitution retained by the people

10th Amendment

Right to powers not otherwise delegated by the Constitution retained by the people

The 6th & 7th Amendments are similar, as are the 9th & 10th; so there are really only 8 limits on government to memorize. But it is actually even simpler than that. Just as the largest quantity of the key ingredients on any soup can are listed first so the very heart of the Bill of Rights is listed first.

The First Amendment²

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

The rights secured by this most central amendment aim to “secure the blessings of liberty” more certainly than any other of the founding documents. It harkens back to the three key rights in the Declaration of Independence granted by our Creator:

“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.”

The American Revolution was not a rebellion, but rather an appeal to Heaven and the First Amendment was an endowment by our Creator. He granted us the protections of our right and ability to worship Him. It actually all started with King Henry VIII in 16th Century England³.

Upset that the Pope would not sanction his divorce in order to make another girlfriend Henry's new wife, the King divorced the Catholic Church instead. The First Act of Supremacy confirmed him by statute as the Supreme Head of the Church of England in 1536 ending any authority from Rome.

At about the same time as Henry The Eighth's dating games the whole world was transformed by three revolutionary developments: The Reformation, the Guttenberg Printing Press, and the Geneva Bible in English, each contributing to a literate citizenry. These educated worshippers of the Living God thwarted the King's authoritarian Anglican Nanny-State. Not happy with the liberties taken by the Protestants in their new-found Biblical freedom, a series of persecutions forced the Protestants to flee to Switzerland and Holland and thence to The New World over the next three centuries.

Then a singular evil in Scotland drove out the Scotts-Irish after the Battle of Culloden, on April 16, 1746. Bonnie Prince Charley, lead the clans of Scotland into a massacre by William, Duke of Cumberland, wiping out the clans, silencing their pipes and stripping them of their Tartans. Prince William Augustus, Duke of Cumberland, was known as Billy the Bold for his command at Culloden. He was the 3rd & youngest son of King George II of England, and shipped off the flowering youth of the Scottish rebel forces into indentured slavery in the New World. "Billie's Boys", as they were called, had been transformed into Bible-Reading Christian believers by the Spirit of the First Great Awakening under the inspired preaching of George Whitfield beginning at Cambuslang not four years earlier. Those "Hill Billies" settled the Appalachian frontier over the next 20 years yearning for liberty, enemies of King George and worshipping God in their new-found Biblical cultures. That brings us to 1776, and the rest is history. . . and why we have been protected and blessed by the Founder's faith in God they imbedded in our constitution.

The rights, blessing of liberty and freedom to worship endowed to us by our Creator God did not include any rights to: Looting, Arson, Rioting, Rebellion, Blasphemy, Rape, Murders, Stealing and the like. The works of the flesh are unlimited but we have a specific list of nine fruits of the Spirit given to us by our creator.

Galatians 5:18-21
The Works of The Flesh

18 But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.
19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,
20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,
21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

Galatians 5:18-26
The Fruit of The Spirit

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith,
23 Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

THE DECLARATION PRAYER FOR THIS DEPLOYMENT

24 And they [WE, THE BELIEVERS] that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.
25 If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.
26 Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.
