No government has survived or prospered its people without a firm basis on a three-legged stool with a Legislative leg, an Administrative leg and a Judicial leg. Lawyers tend to complicate constitutional law, but the document is really elegantly simple. The original US Constitution drafted in 1787 consisted of only seven articles, but the first three, mandating the balance of power among the three branches of government, are the focus of everything. The last two articles are housekeeping, addressing how to amend it and basic rules for states to get along with each other.

The first ten amendments, The Bill of Rights, was already on the table to persuade the States to ratify the Constitution with the promise of these liberty guarantees to be added in 1789. Legal wrangling over the next two centuries produced only seventeen more amendments that included: The 13th amendment and the War between the States over the sin of slavery that was initially ignored by the founders; The 19th amendment launched women's suffrage, also a glaring oversight; The 18th amendment launched the mistake of Prohibition that had to be repealed etc. By and large, the Constitution has remained stable because of the Biblical Trinity of its three branches of government. Amendments have been confessions of our national sins and a mechanism of repentance.

We have not only been endowed with certain unalienable rights by our Creator, but our fundamental form of government is a covenant between We-The-People and God, as outlined in the Bible. Ours was never intended to be the sterile secular Godless stick of punitive rule that is has become lately: But rather, the government made by our Creator with our forefathers was to be a fruitful prosperity carrot leading us in the righteous "pursuit of happiness". When America "assumed among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitled us” we were not at all like most civilizations anywhere on earth down through the ages. Our new government’s constitution threw off the shackles concentrated in the royal power of a mad¹ King George III.

Unlike most fledgling governments, America experimented with dissemination of power back to the body of believers rather than the toxic concentration of power in any earthly potentate. Our Forefathers were truly Subjects of the highest authority of The King of King and Lord of Lords. They patterned the Constitution on, “the Statutes, Judgements and Laws which the Lord made between Him and the children of Israel”. “No King, but King Jesus”, they cried out in the birth pangs of the Revolutionary War. The incubator for this willingness to distribute power back to the people was The First Great Awakening in the anointed preaching of the Wesley brothers, George Whitfield, and Jonathan Edwards, during the last half of the Eighteenth Century on both sides of the Atlantic.

We are in the midst of a Third Great Awakening right now, throwing of the shackles of slavery that had so easily beset us. Our inheritance of the blessings of liberty, as their posterity, has left us with innumerable creature comforts and modern conveniences that our Founding Fathers could scarcely have imagined. The present satanic onslaught of crisis after crisis, manufactured or otherwise, has exposed our false security in things that no one in the formative years of our nation would have presumed. Retirement 401K plans, Social Security, Insurance for everything, and the deceitfulness of riches and the cares of this world have glommed ahold like barnacles on the hull of our ship of state. Yet we continue to vote for whomever promises the most barnacles. We vote our pocketbooks. We seek benefits and entitlements. Let's take a look at the Lord's commentary on pork-barreling, to all 12 disciples, seated at the Last Supper. The King of Kings was about to appoint them a kingdom. But first they had some issues we still struggle with.

BENEFITS FROM BENEFACTORS

“And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest. And he [Jesus] said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called BENEFACTORS. But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.”

Luke 22:24-26²

We have been granted a stay of judgment for wandering off the course set for us by our God-fearing founders only if we vote as appointed servants of King Jesus³.
