Richmond Mayor Levar Stoney Endorses Russet Perry for Senate

LEESBURG, VA – Former CIA officer and prosecutor Russet Perry announced the endorsement of Richmond Mayor Levar Stoney in her race for State Senate District 31.

“The path to holding the Senate majority runs through Russet Perry,” said Mayor Levar Stoney. “Her service to our country and Commonwealth cannot be overstated and we need leaders like her in Virginia’s Senate. I am proud to support Russet in her bid as Loudoun’s and Fauquier’s next State Senator where she will continue to be a voice for the voiceless, a fierce fighter for reproductive rights, and an advocate for Democratic values.”

“Mayor Stoney is a true example of a public servant,” said Russet Perry. “I am grateful to have his support in this crucial race, and I can’t wait to work with him throughout this campaign and as a Senator to deliver for Virginians.”

Mayor Stoney joins the growing number of local and statewide elected officials who have endorsed Perry in her race, including former Governor Ralph Northam, Congresswoman Jennifer Wexton, and Senators John Bell, Barbara Favola, and Jennifer Boysko.
