Virginia's List Endorses Russet Perry

LEESBURG, VA – Russet Perry, a former CIA officer and Loudoun County prosecutor running in Senate District 31, announced the endorsement of Virginia's List. Virginia's List is a leading organization in the Commonwealth working to elect pro-choice Democratic women to state office.

“We are thrilled to endorse Russet Perry in this critical seat,” said Teisha Garrett, Chair of Virginia's List. “With less than a quarter of the Senate members being women, and even fewer returning after retirements, it is imperative we elect more qualified women like Russet. She is a proven fighter for her community and for women, with an impressive career prosecuting cases of domestic violence and sexual assault, and she is exactly who we need as our Democratic nominee to take on Republicans and flip this seat blue in November.”

“I am grateful to have the support of Virginia's List,” said Russet Perry. “I will consider it a privilege to join the inspiring Democratic women in our Senate and increase our representation in Richmond. We need more women fighting for access to reproductive care, gun safety for our community, and a strong public education for our kids, and I look forward to growing our numbers and putting public service before politics to get results in Richmond.”
