

JOURNAL & TOPICS

Journal & Topics Media Group | Serving Chicago's Great Northwest Suburbs

Another 4 Years For Current Buffalo Grove Trustees

By Journal Staff

on March 21, 2025

It's easy to see why the old saying "if it ain't broke, don't fix it" applies to Buffalo Grove's current elected leaders.

It's also why the Journal & Topics endorses current trustees Joanne Johnson, Les Ottenheimer and Denice Bocek in the April 1 municipal election for Buffalo Grove village trustee.

There are four candidates running for four, four-year seats on the board.

All three current board members have been part of several accomplishments in the past few years from redeveloping Town Center into The Clove, to moving public works into a new building, to redevelopment of the former Rohrman car dealerships along Dundee Road, to name a few.

All three support strong fiscal management that protects taxpayer interests and have been part of a zero increase in the village tax levy for multiple years.

Ottenheimer and Johnson, who have been on the board longer than Bocek, continue to focus on economic development, fiscal responsibility and transparency.

The village has achieved a "AAA" bond rating and won numerous awards for financial management, largely in part due to the three incumbents. We expect them to continue that path for the betterment of the village.

The lone challenger being Paulette Greenberg should be applauded for running and appreciated for her years serving on the Buffalo Grove Days Committee. We encourage her to submit her name to serve on another village commission.

Support local news by subscribing to the Journal & Topics in print or online.