

The Ridgeview Charter School Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) corporation formed to support the interaction and engagement of the diverse student population at Ridgeview through the thriving athletic and music programs. Thanks to generous parent donations and community partnerships, the Foundation is able to fund a full range of sports programs for boys and girls - including basketball, baseball, cross country and soccer - many of which are not offered by other Fulton County middle schools and none of which would be possible otherwise.

The Foundation is also the driving force behind the impressive music program, in which more than 70% of Ridgeview students participate (vs. 35% at other Fulton County middle schools), through its band, orchestra and chorus. With such an amazing number of students benefitting from Ridgeview's music department, these programs rely on the Foundation's support for everything from small-group instruction led by expert musicians, a jazz band conductor, professional chorale accompaniment and everything in between.

To continue to provide all of the benefits that the Foundation provides Ridgeview students, it needs your support. Please consider partnering with us at one of the following levels:
