Thad M. Guyer

Attorney at Law

Asian Whistleblower Outreach Project (Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam) January 2015 to Present: Lead outreach, education, client intake for expanding American and European whistleblower protection regimes into Asia. Educate practicing lawyers, NGOs, law school and university students, and business consultants about the value of whistleblower protection to corporations, governments and civil society.

Partner, T.M. Guyer & Friends, PC (Washington, DC, Seattle and Miami) July 1990 to Present: Private law practice with exclusive focus on employee whistleblower litigation in international, state and federal courts and agencies. The law firm devotes approximately half of its resources to litigating international and U.S. cases on behalf of the Government Accountability Project in Washington, D.C.

Litigation Director, Government Accountability Project (Washington, DC and Seattle) March 2002 to January 2005: Supervise all state and federal court, and agency litigation of four attorneys and support staff located in Washington, DC, and Seattle. Litigation centers on employment law under First Amendment and statutory protections of employee whistleblowers who disclose fraud, illegality, mismanagement and environmental damage. Primary duties include staff training, quality control, technology integration, system functionality for timekeeping and calendaring, and discharge of obligations to clients. Secondary duties include preparation of yearly strategic plan for goals and objectives, quarterly reports to the board of directors, and coordination with executive director and program directors. The litigation unit is a support function for substantive law reform programs addressing corporate crime and accountability, homeland and national security, federal civil service, food safety, and commercial and defense operation of nuclear facilities. The litigation unit works regularly with coordinate support functions of communications and media, and legislative affairs. Travel monthly between Washington, DC and Seattle office, with apartment in each city.

T.M. Guyer, PC, Private law firm (Medford, Oregon) July 1990 to March 2002: Sole practice as counsel and co-counsel in civil rights cases, primarily police and prison misconduct in excessive force and searches and seizures under Fourth Amendment. As part of police misconduct practice, provided criminal defense in select cases as predicate to civil rights claims.

Staff Attorney, Coalition for International Justice (The Hague, Netherlands), May to September, 1996: Volunteer position at International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia, an American Bar Association project. Legal research and writing to support tribunal adoption of criminal protections and procedures from the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Amendments of the U.S. Constitution. (See attached article from West Publications).

Executive Director, Center for NonProfit Legal Services, Inc. (Medford, Oregon) June 1984 to July 1990: Combined civil and criminal poverty law program, non-federally funded. Supervised four to six staff attorneys, support staff and volunteer attorneys. Prepared annual budgets and grant proposals to private, local and state funders. Regular meetings and coordination with board of directors, sister public defender and legal aid organizations, and state and local bar associations. Handled modified civil and criminal caseload, including jury trials for non-capital felony defenses. CNPLS had a state criminal defender contract from 1982 to 1986, until the creation of a full-time public defender office in 1986.

Staff Attorney, Center for NonProfit Legal Services, Inc. (Medford, Oregon) June February 1982 to June 1984: Criminal defense and domestic violence staff attorney. Handled mixed caseload of criminal (misdemeanor, felony, juvenile, and mental commitment) and civil cases.

Staff Attorney, Memphis Area Legal Services and Central Arkansas Legal Services (rural Tennessee and Arkansas), December 1977 to February 1982: Handled mixed civil rights and criminal defense caseload in six rural counties of Tennessee and Arkansas.

United States Army, 1968-1970: Infantry Sergeant, Vietnam tour of duty (February to December 1970) with 199th Light Infantry Brigade (airmobile) and 25th Infantry Division (mechanized), training, reconnaissance and combat operations with ARVN troops (Army of Republic of Vietnam).

EDUCATION

Antioch School of Law, Washington, DC, JD 1978: Antioch was a Lyndon Johnson 1960's "war on poverty" program centered around an in-house Legal Services Corporation clinic and public defender office. It was fully accredited, and initially sponsored by George Washington University, then by Antioch University (based in Ohio). President Regan campaigned in 1981 to end funding to the law school, and it has since become the University of District of Columbia Law School.
