Homeowners are required to comply with all Fairfax County construction and/or renovation requirements, as well as contacting Virginia 811 prior to any digging on the property. Homeowners must verify all contractors are licensed and insured for the work being performed. It is highly recommended to review your plans to all those neighbors who may be affected. The HOA may contact them directly, if the scope of the project warrants such action. Approval is contingent upon construction or modifications being done in a professional manner. If any modification creates an adverse drainage impact to the lot and/or adjacent property, applicant may be required to correct the impact at their own expense.
