Class of 1994

Movin' on out o' here

The class of 1994 is a unique, talented, yet mischievous class. Throughout our high school years, we have it the best. We have often set trends for our underclassman to follow in hopes of bettering our school and community.

We'll all miss each other dearly when we go our separate ways, but we know that our friendships will last for eternity.

Love you all...WE'RE OUTTA HERE!!

faced many challenges and have always managed to still come out on top.

Although our class was large and therefore not able to become as close as we wished, we have all made some very special friends who supported and encouraged us to achieve our goals.

One of our most memorable experiences was winning winter carnival two consecutive years, (or should we say three? since we don't know how things will turn out this year. More on this in the Winter Carnival section.

Whether it was putting on a prom, our academic or athletic achievements, we have always tried to make # different

THAT'S ACCEPTABLE HERE

We asked you point blank what you think of each other in terms of your strongest personality traits - the one or two things you will be remembered for most. There are probably no surprises to any of the seniors here. But, just in cast you forget over the years, here is all the information you'll want to remember each other by.

Being different is kind of a tricky thing though. If someone else likes your differentness they will copy you. Before you know it, so many are copying you that it really isn't a different characteristic anymore. Remember the pierced earrings for boys?? It was considered "cool" when only one or two boys wore pierced earrings. However, in no time flat there were so many boys wearing pierced earrings that it wasn't cool anymore.

Be different INSIDE. Nobody can copy that.

▶ Class of 1995 On our way there

Only one more year of high school left, and what a year it is going to be. "It means change. I have to start deciding on my career...I think I want to major in hospitality management in travel." says Renae Lavoie.

Our class is a hardworking group. Along with our studies, we have social lives that are just as important to us as our studies. "Without a social life, I could never make it through my studies." says Amy Lerman.

"Not only is it important to get an education, but it is also important to get to know people and have fun when you really need a break." states Tammy Morneau. Sarah Hebert agrees by saying, "They are both equally important. Social life,...studies; you need both in order to be successful in life."

We have learned to get along and grow stronger as a group. Tammy says, "I think we've all matured and have grown a little closer since we know we'll be seperating soon." Amy Lerman also feels we have matured a lot. "It seems like this year our class has become one."

As for Jen Lacourse, she has a different opinion, "I feel we have matured a lot but we've still got a comic approach to every subject we encounter. I think that in this way we will never change."

Our class is very concerned about todays social issues. Andy Marquis is concerned about the well-being of our enviornment. Most of us are also concerned about the effects of drugs, alcohol, and AIDS. These are common issues that teens are faced with in todays changing world.

Is having a job important for you to have while in high school? Seven out of ten students we asked think it is.

Sarah Hebert agrees that it is. "Not only does it give the students money to pay for cars and college, but it also gives students the responsibility to handle money."

Eric Bouchard has a different viewpoint. "No, a job is not important because a job takes up a lot of my time and may cause stress upon the student."

Any way you look at it, Juniors are concerned, dedicated, fun-loving people on the brink of a brand new adventure - life after high school.
