Throughout the years at Wisdom Middle High School we, the Class of 2011, have learned lessons, made memories and shared fun and laughter. These are all things that will stick with us for the rest of our lives. We all were put together for the first time in 7th grade and some of us were soon known as the kids who would always cause mischief. We were diverse. Hicks, nerds, teachers' pets, and misfits were the major classifications and no matter how different we were, we came to grow together in our high school years. Our class was always known as the class who tended to be more rebellious than the rest. Some memorable moments were: Mr. Woodward's classes, fighting in the lunchroom over a seat at a table, Mr. Textor "smashing his finger" into a million pieces with liquid nitrogen, working on our snow sculptures and working as an actual team during Winter Wellness. Also, popping chip bags in the lunchroom, always chatting on First Class email in middle school because that was the only way to chat with our friends, having a snowball fight to represent the Civil War in Mr. Balerstein's world history class, and sophomore English... enough said. Everyone constantly quoting movies or saying, "That's what she said!" Remember taping Mr. Woodward to the wall, dunking Ms. Leblanc in the dunk tank, the time someone "unexpectedly" fell through the ceiling in the boys locker room, and the hot dog that sat in the back of the bookshelf in the French room for who knows how long? How about always having to be tortured by the delicious smells of baked goods coming out of the resource room while we had to sit in class and do work. And we will never forget the students that came and left: Maria Cleland, Robert Surrency, Matt Jenks, Jakob Tardiff, Staci Guerrette, Ashley Ouellette, Ariel Copp, Michael Deschaine, John-Michael Fongemie, and Reuban Peletier. We could go on forever with things we've done together as a class, but one thing we should always know is that we are the Class of 2011, and we have lived up to our potentials. No matter what we did, we're all good kids at heart. So, see you all in ten, twenty, and so on years.

Aren't you gonna miss? :
Walking in every morning and eating the best breakfast in town? Seeing Mrs. Deb's face as you walk in, barely on time? Class meetings? Building the best snow sculpture every year? Listening to Nickelback, "fever for the flava," and other inappropriate songs out loud, in class. Making excuses of why your homework isn't done? You might even miss things you never thought you would such as every single one of your classmates. Let's never forget each other!! :)

When We Were Kids

"I wanna go back to when we played as kids, but things change, and that's the way it is." -Tupac Shakur

When we were young, most of us were taught by the most wonderful, Mrs. T.O. We will greatly miss the days playing in the pre-k loft, building with blocks, having snack time, and just simply playing all day. We will remember all of the field trips we took together to the pumpkin patches and to the Quebec Zoo in 6th grade. We won't ever forget the time a majority of the class came home sick from Camp Roosevelt...what a disaster! All in all, we won't ever forget each other. Childhood friends make the best memories.

Left: Nicole Coulombe, Kody Chamberland, Curtis Picard, Rocky Chamberland, & Dustin Guerrette. Curtis was the tallest, not much has changed. Below: An early class photograph.

Even though we all had our differences, we managed to become friends over the last 13 years.

BEST ADVICE

"Don't get caught driving 20 miles an hour over the speed limit. You WILL lose your license."

-Amber

By the time you're a senior you've got most of it figured out when it comes to high school. Here's some advice for underclassmen straight from the class of 2011.

"Best thing to do... stay out of trouble."

-Mindy

"When it comes to sports, don't wait until your last year to give it your all. Start off strong so you can win and accomplish something."

-Kyle

"Do your homework so you don't have to do senior year twice!"

-Reno

"Always get your homework done on time and respect the upperclassmen!"

-Kassie

"Don't wait until the last minute to take your Accelerated Reader! Then you'll be stuck reading more than 4 books a year."

-Kurtis

"Always come to school on time!" (the clock says he's "right on time!")

-Devin

"Antagonize Ms. Daigle. Print creepy messages to her printer, get her off topic, laugh at the silly things she says. It's a blast! But do your work on time."

-Alissa

"Keep your grades up so you can get good scholarships."

-CJ

"Compliment the teachers and you'll get good grades!"

-Jeremy

What We Do @ Tech

Tech is a place to get away from the books and away from the school environment,

CARPENTRY

Teacher: Mr. Charles Collin

Students: Dustin Guerrette, Devin Michaud (seen left), & Kendall Voisine

Dustin Guerrette and Devin Michaud have been both in the carpentry their junior & senior years. This year was Kendall Voisine's first year. The students worked on projects for the class and for the community. Devin helped make Mrs. Deb's desk in the Wisdom Middle High School office!

WELDING

Teacher: Mr. Kevin Daigle

Students: Troy Theriault, Joshua Daigle, Justin Albert (seen left), Ryan Blanchette, Kurtis Gagnon, Brent Thibeault, Rocky Chamberland, Kody Chamberland, & Kyle Daigle.

Below: Kurtis Gagnon welding!

A majority of the students that attend the technology center are in the welding program. Being so popular, welding allows our Wisdom students to work together on something they all like and they have a lot of fun doing it!

HEALTH OCCUPATIONS

Nursing & becoming a CNA is what health occupations is all about!

Their most cared-for patient is seen to the right, a dummy that has quite the stylish look!

Teacher: Mrs. Marie-Mae Chasse
Students: Hillary Lavoie, Melinda Zetterman, Tiffani Goyette, Meghan Guerrette, & Sarah Paradis (seen right).

to do some good ol' hands-on work, and to do the things that we simply love to do.

AUTOMOTIVES

Teacher: Mr. Chris Haskins
Students: Matthew Taylor, Charles Taylor (seen left), Andrea Lagasse, Corey Paradis, Jacob LaBrie, Mathew Lavoie, & Jeremy Pelletier.

Fixing cars for educational purposes?! That's a really clever idea. Knowing how to change a tire on the highway is definitely a beneficial thing to know! Even better, you will never get ripped off by an "automobile specialist!" Score!!

JMC

Teacher: Mrs. Susan Dubay
Students: Mindy Chamberland (seen right)

JMC allows students to learn about careers and ideas for the future. Mindy Chamberland, a senior, is the only student attending JMC in the 2010-2011 class. She has been in JMC both 11th & 12th grade.

EARLY CHILDHOOD

Teacher: Mrs. Pamela Caron

Students: Amanda Lagasse (seen left) Haley Bernier, Heather Hebert, & Ashley Beaulieu

Early Childhood helps students learn about childhood development and allows students to have hands-on experience with children. Every once in a while parents bring their children into the Tech center for "123 Playgroup" and the students play with the children and teach them fundamentals. If you love kids, you will love Early Childhood!

COMPUTER TECH

Teacher: Mr. Vincent Sirios
Students: Andrew Guerrette, Billy Laplante (seen left), & Hayley Cyr

Billy Laplante has been in Computer Technology for several years and what he can do with a computer is amazing. Through attending Computer Tech, Billy, Andrew, & Hayley have learned the basics of computers, tricks to restore computers, and they are taught about enhancements in computer technology.

THE LIFE OF A MIDDLE SCHOOLER

Going to a new school is a big transition, especially being in the same school as the rest of the high-schoolers. Middle schoolers face doing new things like Camp Kieve, switching classrooms every 80 minutes, rushing to make it to class on time, having multiple teachers, harder tests, and more responsibilities. Even though there's only 3 primary teachers, it is a little taste of high school. Whether you're in 7th grade or 8th grade, everyone is looking forward to the middle school graduation dance at the end of the year.

Every middle schooler is looking forward to the next 4 years of their life; high school.

Candid- informal; unposed: a candid photo. These are the moments students are not paying attention, the time's they are absorbed in their own world, an we were determined to get them at their best, worst, and funniest.

The class watches on, hoping for their victory.

The girls work hard on their bridges, determined to win.

WHEN YOU WEREN'T LOOKING...

No writing answers on your cast Justin!!

Ms. Daigle and Sahina show school spirit as a team.

Crammin' right before class! Sound familiar?

Chillin' out on a chilly day.

Perfect.

The Healthy Cooking Club is a group of students, teachers, and parents who join together one night a quarter to meet and discuss healthy food choices, share recipes, and actually prepare a healthy meal to eat together. Members bring Tupperware dishes to take leftovers home, and choose the theme for upcoming meetings (breakfast, Italian, Mexican, etc...). The club focuses on healthy choice meals and even how to transform "favorites" to "healthy favorites" knowing that eating healthy equals feeling good. The goal of the group is to learn healthy habits and improve overall health and to make pre-packaged food occasional; not the norm. The group also demonstrates how cooking healthy meals can be a family fun activity all the while incorporating healthy habits to our children that last a lifetime.

COOKING CLUB

Brandon, ever heard of a spray tan?

This year, due to weather, our winter wellness day was postponed, and our wonderful staff planned a great day for us anyway!

Winter Carnival

Are your ears cold Jakob?

Really Curtis - put your shirt on!

What's the name of that song Morgan?

Run Kyle run!

"When in doubt, Alan Jackson!" - Mariah

Robbie having a pep talk with Chantel.

Are you discouraged Jake?

What's with the face Chris?

Going for a ride Eric?

Wow it is really snowing hard!

The ultimate foreman... Why not grab a shovel?

Snow Sculpture Creation

This year we were worried about our snow sculptures since it had barely snowed up until the day we started. Our snow banks were measely little things filled with chunks of ice. Yet the occasion was saved at the last minute. While the temperatures were frigid, students pushed on, intent on having the best sculpture around. However, the last day threatened to melt our sculptures before they were judged.

Winter Wellness

Winter Wellness was not just about fun activities this year. The Can-Am Sled Dog Races were being set up in the meantime. The parking lot was filled with dogs and owners, all getting ready for a good race. Students got to go look at the dogs and talk to the owners a bit. One dog even tried to steal a student's hat!

Left: Chris will only ski in style.

This year, our Winter Wellness day had to be postponed until after February break due to the weather. However, the make-up day could not have been better. It was chilly but beautiful out and most everyone was in high spirits. Kids and teachers alike enjoyed skiing, sledding, snow shoeing, skating, (falling), and chowing down.

T-Bar Buddies!

Brandon won't be laughing long! (He's about to crash into a snowbank!)

Aww! C.J and Timmy are spendin' some quality bro time on the slopes!

Living in such a relaxed and rural area, we are able to do things that other city kids would not think of doing. For instance, getting new snowmobiles and sledding all winter or shooting their very own deer or moose. When we are out of school these are the things we like to do. Whether we are spending time outdoors or just chilling with some friends, we like to have fun. :)

Slow down the night away!

An excuse to get a little too close on the dance floor.

Prom 2011:
"Club Can't Handle Us"

Prom 2010 was plagued with worry about poor weather, messy dinners, killer heels, suffocating tuxes, and constricting dresses, yet the show went on wonderfully. It was a beautiful night full of laughter, dancing, games, and romance. No one ripped their pants this year, almost all the guys took their shirts off (to the ladies delight), and the prom servers even got into the spirit by dressing up in togas (though not by choice).

Curt and Jess codin' off together after some hot dancing!

The point is to NOT fall out of your dress!!

"Why is my mom on the speaker?!" -Jake

You know you live in a hick town

When... everyone line dance.

Jesse puttin' the moves on Kessie, dang!

Prom King & Queen:
 Kyle LaBrie &
 Deliya Michaud

Living up here, prom is the one night that a girl can go out, spot herself and get all dressed up and pretty without people looking at her like she's crazy. It's a one-of-a-kind experience.
