EXPERTISE

Specialization

At the core of our dedication to investment brokerage services lies the founding principle that true market knowledge and expertise are born from specialization. This ethos drives our commitment to tailoring our sales force and services to specific property types and geographical areas, resulting in unparalleled depth of market insight and fostering intimate relationships with property owners and investors. To reinforce our dedication to specialization within each property type, our firm has established specialized groups. These groups oversee the training, communication, and marketing efforts of our sales force, ensuring a finely tuned approach tailored to the unique characteristics of each property type.

Making a Market Through Information Sharing

Our clients benefit most when our sales force and the broader brokerage community engage in comprehensive information sharing. By ensuring that all our agents present investment opportunities to their clients, we achieve maximum exposure for each property and enhance visibility for investors seeking opportunities. Through this collaborative approach, we actively 'make a market' for every property we represent, expanding investors' choices and providing a diverse range of investment options.

RESULTS

Expert Underwriting/Positioning

- We review comparable property rents, recent sales, current for-sale properties and local market conditions.
- Our investment team creates financial performance scenarios with input from clients in order to help assess pricing and formulate the right strategy.
- Our investment professionals conduct detailed market surveys that provide an accurate and competitive estimate of a property's current and future value.
- A comparison of property trends and values in various submarkets enables investors to assess the desirability of moving equity from one market to another in order to take advantage of local cycles and opportunities.

Smart Investments Through In Depth Market Research and Knowledge

The Research Services Division at Silicon Beach Partners comprises seasoned real estate analysts dedicated to delivering comprehensive market insights. Our research is tailored to specific property types and incorporates local market dynamics alongside regional and national trends, aiding in property evaluation, pricing, and strategic positioning. Clients engaged in transactions benefit from the synergy between our investment research capabilities and the market expertise of our agents. Throughout the investment lifecycle, owners can leverage a range of research publications and analytical tools to optimize property performance during the hold period.
