

In order to prepare to be better informed citizens of the community and the world, University School students learn first-hand about faiths by going to houses of worship to explore and talk to adherents of that religion. This is part of our Learning Outside the Classroom program: this entails weekly field trips for all students (40+ per year).

Since 2010, University School students have visited the following houses of worship (usually 4-6 per year):

Royal Missionary Baptist Church	Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (West Ashley temple)
Christ Church Anglican	Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Synagogue
Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian	Central Mosque of Charleston
Dor Tikvah Synagogue	Ebenezer AME
St. Matthew's Lutheran Church	Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church
Stella Maris Roman Catholic Church	All Saints Lutheran Church
Holy Ascension Orthodox Church	The Unitarian Church in Charleston
Seacoast Church	Charleston Tibetan Society (Buddhist)
"Mother" Emanuel AME Church	Brith Sholom Beth Israel (BSBI) Synagogue
Christ Our King-Stella Maris School	St. Michael's Anglican Church
Synagogue Emanu-El	Greek Orthodox Church of the Holy Trinity
US Army Chaplain Center & Museum (Fort Jackson, Columbia)	Mepkin Abbey
Louis Gregory Baha'i Museum	French Huguenot Church
Hindu Temple and Cultural Center

Faith sites visited through week-long Middle & Upper School Trips

Both churches at which Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was pastor:

Dexter Avenue King Memorial Baptist Church (Montgomery, AL)

Ebenezer Baptist Church (Atlanta, GA).

Sri Ganesha Hindu Temple (Nashville)

Cathedral-Basilica of the Immaculate Conception (Mobile, AL)

Washington National Cathedral

The Saint Louis Cathedral (New Orleans)

Islamic Center of Washington, D.C.

Amish homesteads (Bird-in-Hand, PA) and Amish vacation village (Pinecraft, FL)

Aga Khan Islamic Museum (Toronto)

Miccosukee Tribe (Everglades, FL)

Poarch Band of Creek Indians (Atmore, AL)

Suquamish Tribe (Port Madison, WA)

Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (Cherokee, NC)

We also host religious leaders and scholars for presentations and discussions at USL.