Running Towards Something Bigger.

Two of our members recently discovered a shared passion for running, and it's creating a powerful ripple effect throughout the Club. What began as a simple goal to reach their daily step count has grown into something much more meaningful.

Each day after school, you'll find them in the gym, running lap after lap before snack time. Along the way, they're building endurance, determination, and a strong friendship rooted in encouragement and accountability. Their commitment hasn't gone unnoticed. Other members have started joining in, or cheering them on from the sidelines, turning an individual goal into a shared experience. What started with two runners has become a moment of connection, motivation, and positive peer influence.

Their story is a great reminder of how healthy habits and shared goals can inspire confidence, strengthen friendships, and build a culture of wellness across the Club.
