Adam

Head of Actuarial & IFRS17

Insurer

I had the pleasure to be contacted by Catalin regarding a new opportunity in Switzerland. It was my first experience in an international recruitment process, hence, all advice given by Catalin was highly appreciated. We were in constant contact during the whole process, not only at the stage of sending my CV, but he also provided insights on how to tailor my CV, helped me prepare for my interviews and to negotiate my job offer.

He was also very helpful during my relocation process and he was in touch after I started my new job. Furthermore, it must be noted that Catalin has extensive knowledge about insurance markets and regulations. I highly recommend Catalin.”

Global Head of Pricing

Reinsurer

“I have worked with Catalin for few good years as a client and I have always had great pleasure to do so. Catalin has a solution-oriented mindset to make things happen: with good listening skills “he puts himself in your shoes” and with his practical agility he can find new solutions every time.

Joacquin

CFO Insurer

“Catalin perfectly matches the needs of both the employer and the candidate. He has demonstrated a great ability of advising people about how to best develop their professional careers. He is always striving to give a more personal touch to the relationships and is adding a lot of value to any CFO or Chief Actuary who is looking to hire for their team. He is different than the other head-hunters by being very professional, friendly, helpful and innovative in his approach.

Ana

Chief Actuary Insurer

“Catalin's mix of business and personal skills make him the ideal recruiter. On the business side, he is prompt, professional, and very knowledgeable about the insurance field. On the personal side, he manages very quickly to establish an open and understanding relationship. Catalin seems to really care about finding both the perfect candidate for his client and the “dream job” for the candidate, and not just about filling the position or finding a placement. An aspect of Catalin's personality that I am sure contributes to this success is that he is very straightforward when discussing expectations from both sides, and throughout the entire process. At the same time, he is very intelligent and has a great sense of humour, which make him a pleasure to work with. I highly recommend Catalin!

Chris

Risk Manager Big4

Catalin helped me progress my career and find a challenging position by joining a great team in a big consulting company. Catalin is very professional, honest, with a great sense of humour and working with him was a pleasure. His advice was extremely helpful. I highly recommend Catalin whether you are a candidate or a company because I strongly believe that Catalin knows how to make the best match not only professionally but also personality wise.”
