Color and Chat January Newsletter

I LOVE Color and Cat!

Important Dates:

Week of Dec. 28th - Share & Show Day:

Choose 2–3 gifts to share and show. We'll also do a fun countdown to New Year's! Some classes do not have class, so check your schedule.

Week of January 4th - No classes: There will be no classes this week. I will miss you!

Week of January 11th - Share and Show or Vision Board/Snow Art Day:

Share & show a favorite item, create a vision board with goals, dreams, or design snow-themed art to celebrate winter fun 🐼

Week of January 18th - National Handwriting and Morse Code Name Day:

This week, we'll celebrate handwriting week by sharing our handwriting skills. We'll also have fun learning how to spell our names in Morse Code, a cool mix of learning and creativity!

Week of January 25th - Share your baby photo day:

Students are invited to share a baby photo or two and tell us a little about YOU as a baby! 😊

Week of January 4th – Teacher Planning Week: I will be taking my annual teacher planning week break. During this time, I'll be busy cooking up even more fun ideas for us! There are no classes scheduled this week, and you will not be charged.

Make sure to stay enrolled to save your spot!
