Coming to terms with the times...

Creating programs, chasing youth trail telling the love of God

by Elizabeth A. Eaton

When I'm out and about in the church, I'm often asked what I plan to do to save small congregations, reverse the decline in membership, bring young adults back to church, increase mission support, make the ELCA truly multicultural, boost our relevance in the culture and fix Congress (well, not that last one). I have no plan to do any of that by myself, but I wonder if there is a deeper concern in those questions that requires a deeper answer from all of us.

The world has changed and is changing. Residents of my mother's retirement community who waited weeks to receive letters from loved ones serving overseas during World War II are now on Facebook and regularly use Skype or FaceTime to visit with grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Air travel that was once glamorous and rare for most of us is now, both in frequency and ambiance, a lot like taking the bus. It's not unusual, even in small-town America, to have Jewish, Muslim and Hindu neighbors or those with no religious affiliation at all. We are in a strange new world and don't really know how all this will shake out.

We might be tempted to overdo our efforts, to work harder and harder developing innovative programming, reading every manual on church growth, jazzing up our websites, being present on every possible social media platform. Maybe we should discover our congregation's niche: young adults, theology on tap, justice and advocacy, care of creation, ethnic specific ministry, pet blessing liturgies, urban church, rural church, big church, small church, virtual church, home where across the ELCA. And good for us. We need to be brave and daring. God can use our best imagination and innovation.

Or we might be tempted to circle the wagons and hold ever more tightly to what we have left. There is much that is beautiful about our traditions and buildings and heritage. What will happen to all of that if our particular congregation ceases to exist? Who will bury our parents or us? Who will take care of the parish cemetery? This is when congregations begin eyeing visitors for their value as replacement parts.

My daughter and her significant other, who was running for county commissioner, attended a church pancake breakfast where they were swarmed by parishioners who didn't realize he was a candidate. All they saw were young adults! Potential members! It was an uncomfortable experience.

But why do we want people to join our church? What does church mean to us? When I have asked that question, people often spoke about church as community or family. People talked about the good and important work their congregations carried out to feed the hungry or shelter the homeless. Some said the best thing about their congregations wasn't programs but people.

It was rare that anyone mentioned God or spoke about an encounter with the transcendent. I don't believe our people lack faith or don't know Jesus, but I wonder if we have lost the language to speak about the love of God that has been given to us in the crucified and risen Christ. Maybe we just assume Jesus. Maybe Jesus has become like wallpaper: we know it's there and everyone can see it, but we don't have to talk about it.

The best thing about the church, the thing that is uniquely the church, is not programs or people but Jesus. If we as a people, and as congregations, don't get that right it doesn't matter how many programs we come up with.

In Christ through the Spirit, God has invited us into a deeply intimate and loving relationship with God and with each other. Being church is abiding in that love. We are God's beloved people gathered around word and sacraments. That's what gives us life. That's what shapes us. That's what sends us out into the world to do justice and to love kindness (Micah 6:8). And this must be the kind of community to which we invite others—not because we want to grow or pay for the boiler or attract young people, but because we have received this incredible life-changing gift and want everyone to be touched and claimed and transformed by it too.

Letter of Invitation

Dear Sisters in Christ,

It's that time to once again join together for our Synodical convention this November.

This year hopes to be even more exciting than last year with new ideas, new faces, and rekindled friendships.

I hope that all Pacifica Women of the ELCA will join with me November 6 - 8, 2015 at the Ontario Airport Hotel in Ontario, CA. In this place and at this time you will be creating the ministry of the Women of the ELCA. You are the future of our organization. We can share, have fellowship, be spiritually inspired and be ready "to mobilize women to act boldly on their faith in Jesus Christ!"

As in years past, we try to keep costs affordable for all women to attend, yet we know that the cost could be "out of reach" for some. We are encouraging women to "bring a friend" to help with cost. The registration will be available in many places so watch for the Pacifica Partners, online at www.pacificawomen.org and on our new "Facebook" page, Pacifica Synod Women of the ELCA.

The convention planning team is working hard to improve our conventions from year to year by listening to all the comments on your evaluations. With the new board, we are excited about convention, Refreshing, Revitalizing and Restoring your soul.

Looking forward to seeing all of the beautiful Pacifica women and please remember you are invited to bring a friend to share this experience.

God's peace and blessings,

Sue Connors

Silent Auction

Basket Reminder!

This event is your opportunity to build up three of our scholarships funds,

The Seminarian Scholarship Fund,

The Triennial Scholarship Fund, and our WELCA Convention Scholarship Fund.

* Money received from this event helps support our women on their journey through Seminary, experience the "big picture" of the church-wide Triennial Gathering or be able to attend our own Synodical convention. Not only are you supporting these scholarship funds, but it's a wonderful opportunity to support the community as well (you might even find a Christmas gift or birthday gift for that special someone. Endless possibilities)! We would like to encourage all units to bring a basket for the auction.

Large or small

(no theme needed)!

Attention all Women!

A little request for our convention. . . We are asking all congregations to help us and bring:

- 2 dozen cookies to share (your favorites recipe) for our hospitality room.

We will provide coffee & tea

with all the fixings

(including cups).

To kick off their "Gather" Summer Bible Study Series, the women of Hope Lutheran in Palm Desert joined with the women of Spirit of Peace Lutheran in Big Bear for a time of study, fellowship and food! After a refreshing rain the evening before, everyone could enjoy the cool peaceful atmosphere at the Big Bear home of Ella Manor. This was a real blessing coming from the 110 degree desert heat. Pastor Carl Witt lead the Bible Study on "Giving in Secret" as we savored God's creation and chatted with our sisters in Christ.

A plea from your President

As 2015 begins, please put Triennial Offering for 2017 into your unit's budget for this year, as well as the following years. This will ease the burden of coming up with the total amount of offering just prior to the Triennial Gathering. You can send a check to Harriet Morris at 1951 47th Street, Space #3, San Diego, CA 92102. In the memo space please put TG17. I look forward to sharing more details of this gathering, after returning from the Conference of Presidents this coming February. You may also want to put some dollars away monthly for your trip back to Minneapolis. It will be an awesome time of fellowship, learning and worship.

Thank you for the support of the many ministries of the Women of the ELCA.
