

Please Elect Joseph Grcar “Public Servant” for Castro Valley School Board this November

You have to see it to believe it. Time after time at Castro Valley school board meetings, families have pleaded for the smallest measure of attention and accountability—only to be dismissed.

- Parents asked why all of the tennis courts were being removed, partly funded by the same $200 million in bonds they were expected to shoulder.
- A parent asked why students were denied Advanced Placement science courses, limiting opportunities for college admission and STEM careers.
- Parents overflowed into the parking lot demanding answers after two respected teachers were reassigned from their elementary school.

Each time, board members looked solemnly at the people and repeated, “The Brown Act prevents us from discussing this because it is not on the agenda.”

The people who pay the taxes, volunteer in classrooms, drive their children to practice, and entrust the schools with what matters most, deserve more than excuses. They deserve a school board that acts.

Elect Joseph Grcar as your “Public Servant.” He will remember who he works for—and he will put your concerns on the agenda.
