

Elect New Directors at Castro Valley Sanitary

Ken OWEN – Dar SAINI – Joe GRGAR

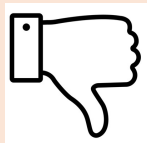

Don't be fooled by the incumbents. They have been in office for a combined 65 years, and have forgotten to serve Castro Valley:

Representing You

Ken, Dar and Joe exemplify the diversity of the Valley, with careers as sewer contractor, lawyer, international IT businessman, and laboratory scientist. The incumbents spent their careers in waste water.

Incumbents Lost Control

Castro Valley sewer and garbage rates once were equivalent to neighboring Oro Loma Sanitary, whose treatment plant we share. Now, we pay more—for no good reason.

	Castro Valley	Oro-Loma
residential sewer, year	$550.70	$423.12
20 gal. pickup, month	$35.80	$13.73

You Irresponsible Stewards You

Rather than repair aging sewers, incumbents spent $7,958,415 of savings and borrowed $12,565,000 (for which we repay $780,000 annually for 30 years) to build an industrial garage and office space.

Disrespected Castro Valley

Incumbents changed zoning to put their industrial garage next to homes, over the objection of the Municipal Advisory Council.
