

PLAY DIFFERENT.

FORGET THE SIDELINES.

We don't believe every student should play the same sports simply because that's how it's always been done. We built an athletics program for students who want to move, compete, explore, and discover something new. Then we put it on a court above the streets of Manhattan — as dynamic and energetic as the city itself.

Movement should be social.

Competition should be inclusive.

Wellness should last a lifetime.

These aren't niche sports anymore. They're some of the fastest-growing athletic communities in the country, with expanding collegiate club programs, competitive leagues, and lifelong opportunities to play. Whether you're discovering a sport for the first time or sharpening your competitive edge, you'll find teammates, challenge yourself, and build the confidence that comes from trying something different.

Because the future of athletics isn't about cutting students from teams. It's about creating more athletes.

PLAY DIFFERENT.
LIVE DIFFERENTLY.
