Trans-Light-Element Adventure Series Description and Overview

In Episode 1, the audience is introduced to the Reuel family. They live in a middle-income suburb near Denver, Colorado. Benjamin Franklin Reuel is 16 years old. His older sister, Vanessa, is 18. His little brother, Joseph, is 4. Ben's mother, Rachel, is a devoted mother and home maker. His father is Dr. Gamiel Reuel, a research scientist and professor at the University of Denver. Ben has worked with his father in his research since he was old enough to walk. He helped his dad build their backyard hobby laboratory where they spend a lot of time together.

Years before Ben was born, Dr. Reuel began experimenting with Unified Field, an old theory first proposed by Scottish physicist, James Clerk Maxwell, and later championed by Albert Einstein. One day, Gamiel is working alone in the lab when energy field critical configuration ratios accidentally fall in sync, catching Dr. Reuel by surprise. Ben arrives just in time to save his dad from certain disaster.

As Ben helps his father pick up the pieces, they discover an incredible new side effect – a new elementary substance Ben names "Trans-Light-Element" (T-L-E for short.) When others learn about their discovery, unknown power brokers conspire to threaten Dr. Reuel's family.

Meanwhile, a family medical crisis shakes Ben's world to the core. The plot continues to build as the Reuel family make new friends while coping with unexpected developments of Gamiel's incredible discovery. Ben is the hero in this science-fiction adventure mystery series, but his big sister and their new friends soon share center stage as the story gets into high gear.

In Episode 2, the story picks up with the Reuel family arrival in Finland. Ben and his dad are in a race against time to solve the mysteries of Trans-Light-Element before it is too late. But life is not all suspense. The Reuel family enjoy themselves as they are immersed in the rich culture and history of Finland. New Trans-Light-Element discoveries and capabilities continue to unfold while secret agents do everything in their power to steal Dr. Reuel's research.

Trans-Light-Element

An Introduction and Overview

Episode 3 is the exciting conclusion to the Trans-Light-Element foundation Tri-Series. The story picks up right where Episode 2 ended. The plot thickens and the pace quickens as international corporate conspirators pull out all the stops to steal Trans-Light-Element and take over the world. Ben and devoted friends of the Reuel family must deal with spies, criminals, and corrupt lawyers as they race against the clock to repair the global T-L-E network configuration before it is too late.

In Episode 4, Ben's family is preparing for Thanksgiving Day. He and his friends are looking forward to a relaxing uneventful holiday. Meanwhile, a key conspirator in the plot to steal T-L-E is still at large evading the most sophisticated global manhunt in history. Secret research laboratories around the world continue to search for ways to open a Unified Field door; but, without Dr. Reuel's field stabilizing algorithm, they risk tearing the entire Solar System apart. Ben, Vanessa, Joseph, and their friends suddenly find they are the only ones who are in a position to save the world in a new desperate global contest.

In Episode 5, Benjamin Reuel and his family are making plans for the Easter weekend break. Those plans get turned upside down. Sinister scientists have been hiding since they were defeated in their last bid to take over the world. Ben learns he is the only one who can go on a secret mission his father cannot complete. On this mission, he learns what it really means to live in a world without T-L-E. New plot twists and new reveals promise to make this episode a read you won't be able to put down.

About the Author

Michael was born in Wyoming and grew up in Texas. He gained a deep abiding love and appreciation for the Finnish people while living in Finland as a young man between the age of 20 and 22.

He has a Bachelor of Science in Computer Information Systems, a Master of Science in Space Systems Operations, served 20 years in the US Air Force, and another 20 years as a contractor consultant. Although retired, he continues to write and offer consultant services.

Michael and his wife, Edna, are active in their local community and stay busy promoting family reunions, helping family members when needed, and planning visits to see their 5 children, 9 grandchildren, and 2 great grandchildren.

Preferred hobbies include writing, model trains, photography, music, choir, shop, gardening, and cutting grass with a zero-turn mower. He also likes to golf, play pool, and claims to be pretty good at Texas '42'.

Michael gets excited about visiting national parks, monuments, museums, old sailing ships and other places with nautical themes. He also appreciates a good movie as well as a good book. To him, adventure is a by-product of learning – education is a gift to be shared and enlarged upon daily.

Keenly interested in family history research, Michael is a 9th generation descendant of Walter Bosley who was born c. 1668 in Staffordshire, England, migrated to Baltimore, on record surveying 200 acres on the 'Gunpowder' in 1696 (at age 28). Walter died 19 years later at the age of 47. His will, probated 2 Nov 1715, names 5 sons; Joseph, John, James, William, and Charles. James is the progenitor in Michael's patriarchal line. Family History is something that never gets old.
