

KEY BENEFITS TO FILMMAKING CLASSES

COLLABORATIVE SPACE

Exposure to variety enriches learning with different challenges and choices. In class, filmmakers will work in groups where communicating and reasoning with each other will be important for their films. The world is huge and colorful; they should know it and learn to apply it!

CONFIDENCE BUILDING

Storytelling is a natural instinct, and every person should believe in that power! Young filmmakers will have confidence as storytellers when they learn to make smart and creative decisions in the filmmaking process. Our classes lend the space to explore it and the tools to build it!

PROBLEM SOLVING

Storytelling is full of surprises, but nothing that can't be managed. Our young filmmakers will learn to tackle and resolve problems as they learn to make the most of their provided props to tell their stories. Work-arounds are the ultimate creativity, and nothing to be afraid of!

CRITICAL THINKING

There's always a way to get where you need to go! We want filmmakers to take many possibilities into account for how to create and complete a film. More options mean decision-making opportunities to expand and develop their imagination into a workable plan!

REAL-WORLD AWARENESS

Our filmmakers will have the chance to make films from their own personal and cultural perspective inspired by real world topics. Students can work through real feelings and show how they've been affected by such things. Storytelling should always be in touch with the world!

HANDS-ON LEARNING

There's never a dull moment in filmmaking! Our young filmmakers can engage themselves on a physical level for better retention, real world experience and stress-free fun. If they're not on their feet or working the camera, then they're building their own sets and drawing their stories.

Enrollment is limited with a minimum of 4 and a maximum of 12.
