Official Campaign Announcement

Dr. Myrtle P. Alexander for Mayor of Washington, D.C.

Today, I proudly announce my candidacy for Mayor of Washington, D.C. I enter this race with a steadfast commitment to restoring dignity, accountability, and opportunity to our nation's capital. Our city stands at a crossroads, and the decisions we make now will determine the future we leave for generations to come.

One of the greatest moral challenges facing our city is the ongoing crisis of homelessness. Too many of our neighbors — families, seniors, veterans, and residents with disabilities — are living without the stability and safety they deserve. I am committed to transforming our approach from temporary fixes to long-term solutions that create pathways to permanent housing, economic mobility, and generational wealth.

My campaign is built on a simple but powerful belief: D.C. deserves leadership that puts people first — every neighborhood, every family, every voice. From strengthening public safety and revitalizing our economy to elevating education, expanding mental health access, and addressing homelessness with dignity and urgency, I am prepared to lead with courage, compassion, and unwavering resolve.

As we embark on this journey, I am guided by the timeless words of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who reminded us that “the time is always right to do what is right.” His call to moral clarity transcends party lines and inspires all who believe in service, justice, and the promise of a better tomorrow.

This campaign is not just about winning an election — it is about renewing hope, restoring trust, and building a city where every resident can thrive.

D.C. First. D.C. Forward. D.C. Forever.
