To Whom It May Concern:

Betsey O'Hagan Merkel has asked me to write a letter of recommendation for her, and I do so, very enthusiastically. I believe the many years of personal friendship and professional association I have had with Betsey lend substance and credibility to what I write herein.

As Artistic Manager of, and harpist in the Coryton Harp Duo, Betsey first established a relationship with Lake Erie College in the late '80's or early '90's, bringing the CHD to us as a visiting ensemble in our Fine Arts programming for the academic year. Her honesty, extremely friendly, yet highly professional demeanor quickly endeared her to the faculty and staff of LEC. Her ability to very effectively wear the hat of manager, musician, and public relations personality streamlined the process of presenting their program at this college, and caused us to continue the relationship for many more years to come.

In years subsequent to their first program at LEC, Betsey's ensemble grew and she caused the college's Fine Arts programming to grow right along with her. Betsey is a visionary, and I do not use that term in a cavalier fashion. She developed new performing arts programming ideas that were infused with service to this college, local grade schools, and the community-at-large. In addition to the double harp format, the Coryton Ensemble, which along with the harps included flute, violin, cello and baritone voice, brought expanded versatility of program offerings to the benefit of everyone. Later, the Coryton Singers were added, and Betsey had everything necessary to tie our programming in with not only the Painesville area, but with Cleveland, as well. Her vision and managerial skills enabled a collaborative effort between Coryton and the Cleveland Composer's Guild, which had far-reaching impact on the artistic community of N.E. Ohio.

Betsey is tireless! I have yet to catch my breath from my efforts to keep up with her flow of activities from years ago! Her resourcefulness, personable approach, high level of effective energy, vision, imagination, and honorable reputation, allow her to be an extremely productive and effective manager. Most note-worthy about her management style is that she manages by inspiring those around her through her own active participation. In other words, she provides leadership through example – not as a device, but by her nature. This is most commendable.

Betsey is, above all, a most fine human being! This fact is apparent in her work as a sensitive artist, as well as serving her in her interpersonal dealings – both being so much a part of her daily life. Betsey is a phenomenon that I'm better for, for being able to call her my colleague and friend. My highest recommendation goes to Betsey O'Hagan!

Sincerely submitted,

Paul Gothard III, Professor of Music, Director of Fine arts,
Lake Erie College, 391 W. Washington Street, Painesville, Ohio 44077

2013-2014 POST DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP

The Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender in the Social Sciences (RGSS) and the Research Network on Racial and Ethnic Inequality (The Network), both affiliates of the Social Science Research Institute at Duke University, invite applications for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship in disparities between racial and ethnic groups.

REGSS and The Network provide a context where scholars interested in examining the constructs of race, ethnicity, and gender from an interdisciplinary perspective can engage each other in dialogue and collaboration. Our questions and our methodologies draw on disciplinary backgrounds that include economics, history, political science, psychology, public policy, and sociology. Scholars presently engaged in research on the causes and the social and political consequences of rising economic inequality are invited to apply for this one-year fellowship. In addition to contributing to our ongoing racial and ethnic inequality and disparities research program, the Fellow is expected to teach one course during the year, present their research at one of the center's monthly research colloquia.

Relevant Fields: Applications from scholars in any social science discipline are welcome. Please specify your home discipline and/or the discipline in which you received your Ph.D. in your cover letter.

Stipend: $45,000 per fellowship period. Health benefits are available. Some funds are available for research expenses, including conference travel.

Fellowship Period: August 1, 2013 – July 31, 2014.

Eligibility: The primary criterion for selection is evidence of ongoing scholarship in the study of economic inequalities and disparities between racial and ethnic groups. Applicants must complete all requirements for the doctoral degree by August 2013. Preference will be given to individuals who are within five years of their degree, but more senior applicants will be considered.

The deadline for submission of applications ends on November 30, 2023.

Sample NSF Fellowship Recommendation

Missouri University

Dear Dr. [Recipient's Name],

I am writing in support of [Recipient's Name]'s application for an NSF Fellowship. Jane is generally a good student with great potential as a research scientist. I encourage you to give her your most consideration.

Jane has been conducting an independent [Recipient's Name]'s research project in my laboratory for the past year. She has demonstrated a strong ability to work independently and has shown a great deal of promise in her research. She has just completed her first publication and is currently working on her second. She is a hard worker and has a great deal of potential. I am confident that she will make her mark in the field of [Recipient's Name] and will be a valuable addition to any research group.
