BIO:

If you were to think of the most glorious sound that could ever be produced...as if Heaven itself were to part the clouds for the briefest of moments and all the Angels gathered to sing their most Angelic song, and it was so beautiful that it could only be heard for a single whisper of a moment or the gloriousness of the sound would overwhelm everyone on Earth....yep, that's the Brandon McDermott Band.

A staple along the Texas Gulf Coast, the Galveston, TX native Brandon McDermott Band has been bringing their exciting brand of Texas Music to stages all across the Lone Star State for years. The Brandon McDermott Band just released their second full-length album "Across The Causeway" on September 10th; and the album already has over 50,000 plays and climbing on Spotify and Apple Music. In addition to that, the first single of the album entitled "43rd and R" currently playing on Texas Radio and climbing the Texas Music Charts. The band has teamed up with Sony Orchard to release the new album which was produced by Derek Hames and recorded at Edgewater Studios in Sugarland, TX. The album also features a special guest appearance by Texas Music legend RAY WYLIE HUBBARD! With the release of their new full-length album, combined with the bands already popular live performances, it doesn't matter if you prefer mud on your boots or sand between your toes, if you like Texas Music then the Brandon McDermott Band has just what you need!

BRANDON MCDERMOTT BAND HAS SHARED THE STAGE WITH:

Kevin Fowler, Stoney LaRue, Micky & The Motorcars, Cory Morrow, Josh Abbott Band, Aaron Watson, Chris Knight, Dirty River Boys, Brandon Rhyder, Bri Bagwell, Honeybrowne, Sundance Head, Dub Miller, and even 90's megastars - Poison.
