- Frenzy events will have a minimum 80% entry fee payback with totals being added at the discretion of eTournament Fishing. Total payouts for each event will be based on the number of participants and sponsor participation.
- Participants must provide the correct mailing address when registering for the event. All payments that are returned to eTournament Fishing due to an incorrect mailing address will be forfeited.
- Payouts will be determined by the number of entries and will be mailed within 14 days after the conclusion of the event.
- There will be weekly resets where the biggest fish of the week will receive a prize determined by eTournament staff.
- Additional weekly prizes can be awarded based on availability.
- The number of places paid down at the end of the event will be determined on the final number of participants.
- No party fishing allowed. All people in any vessel must be entered into the Frenzy event for any fish caught from that vessel to count. Any violations of this rule will result in the rejection of those entries.
- Ties will be determined by who caught the biggest Walleye and submitted the fish in the eTournament Fishing app first.
- The grand champion will be determined by the overall biggest Walleye caught during the duration of the entire event.

Measuring Board Requirements

- Commercial Production: Only commercially manufactured measuring boards are permitted.
- 90-Degree Bend: The board must feature a 90-degree bend at one end, known as the "bump end," to ensure consistent fish placement.
- Quarter-Inch Increments: The board must have clearly marked ¼ inch graduation lines for accurate measurement.

- Prohibited Items: Handmade boards, adhesive stickers, tape measures, and any sliding, retractable, or foldable measuring devices are strictly forbidden.

Fish Submission Requirements

- Submissions cannot be made until 8 hours after you have entered the event.
- Submissions submitted prior to the lapse of the 8-hour buffer period will be rejected.
- Correct Event: All fish submissions must be entered into the correct tournament event within the app.
- Consequences of Incorrect Submission: Submitting a fish to the wrong event will result in the submission's rejection. Critically, this rejected submission will still count against your daily virtual livewell limit.

CPRV fish submission elements

1. MEASUREMENT PHOTO

Immediately after catching a fish to be submitted, the participant must take the measurement photo.

- The measurement photo must be taken from directly overhead ("straight down perspective") with no angle. Avoid casting shadows on the fish.
- The measurement photo must clearly show the entire fish and be in focus. Providing a clear photo for accurate verification is the participant's sole responsibility.
- The measurement photo must show the fish's mouth (open or closed) touching the "bump end" of the measuring board. Failure to clearly show the mouth touching will result in a 1/2-inch deduction from the submitted length.
- Your hand must be placed behind the fish's gill plate, holding the fish flat against the measuring board.
- The measurement photo must clearly show the fish's tail (pinched or unpinched) on the measuring board for accurate length measurement. If the tail touches or crosses a graduation line, rounding up to the nearest 1/4 inch is permitted.
- The minimum length for fish submission is 21 inches. If a fish's tail touches the 20 3/4-inch mark, rounding up to 21 inches is allowed for submission. Fish not reaching the 20 3/4-inch mark does not meet the minimum length requirement and cannot be submitted.

2. RELEASE VIDEO

After taking the measurement photo and/or trophy photo, the participant will take the release video.

- A trophy photo is required; the release video may begin immediately after the photo is taken.
- CRITICAL: Verify your video recorder's timer is actively running after pressing record to guarantee the video is capturing.
- Failure to clearly show the fish's release in the video will result in the submission being rejected, but the fish will still count towards your daily virtual livewell limit.
- If a legal fish cannot be released due to its condition, the team must retrieve the fish and remove a significant portion of its tail fin. This marks the fish as already submitted and accounted for. Anglers must immediately notify tournament officials, providing the corresponding fish number from their app submission.

NOTE: It is the responsibility of the participant to ensure all required fish submission elements conform to the guidelines set forth. Visit our website: www.eTournamentFishing.com to view participant tutorials to help you become familiar with the functionality of the app and the fish submission process.
