Meet With Me

At the core of Dawn's work are compassion, integrity, and transparency.

She brings clarity and calm to complex challenges, pairing rigorous analytical thinking with a deep commitment to her clients' long-term success.

Dawn founded Creach Consulting Group in 2017 to focus on her passion for supporting providers and improving health outcomes through innovative care delivery and value-based payment strategies. Since then, she has worked with hundreds of healthcare organizations and multiple health plans in Oregon and beyond.

With more than 20 years of experience, Dawn has worked across diverse settings including state government, an independent provider association, a statewide quality improvement initiative, and academic research at OHSU. As a founding member of Oregon's Primary Care Payment Reform Collaborative, she spent more than a decade providing subject-matter expertise and policy leadership to advance innovative payment strategies to strengthen and sustain advanced primary care.

Trained as a sociologist, Dawn brings a systems-level perspective to her work—helping organizations navigate complexity while centering the needs of patients, families, providers, and diverse communities. Her approach blends policy fluency, data-informed strategy, and practical implementation support.

Outside of work, Dawn enjoys staying active with her four-pawed best friends through dog agility and scentwork, exploring Central Oregon trails, practicing yoga, rocking out at live music shows, and cheering on her favorite sports teams.
