

Culturally-Responsive Trauma-Informed Primary Care

Going Beyond Checking The Box

Dr. Harper will be your guide, offering practical strategies to implement culturally-responsive trauma-informed care.

Your team will leave with refreshed enthusiasm to apply new strategies in your everyday operations and long-term goals.

Achieve new PCPCH and Oregon Medical Board requirements

Beginning in 2025, Oregon's Patient-Centered Primary Care Home (PCPCH) program requires that staff are trained in delivering culturally and linguistically appropriate trauma-informed care.

This training fulfills all PCPCH criteria and the Oregon Medical Board's mandatory cultural competency continuing education.
